PUBLISHED BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1967
SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL, READING, PENNSYLVANIA

Foreword

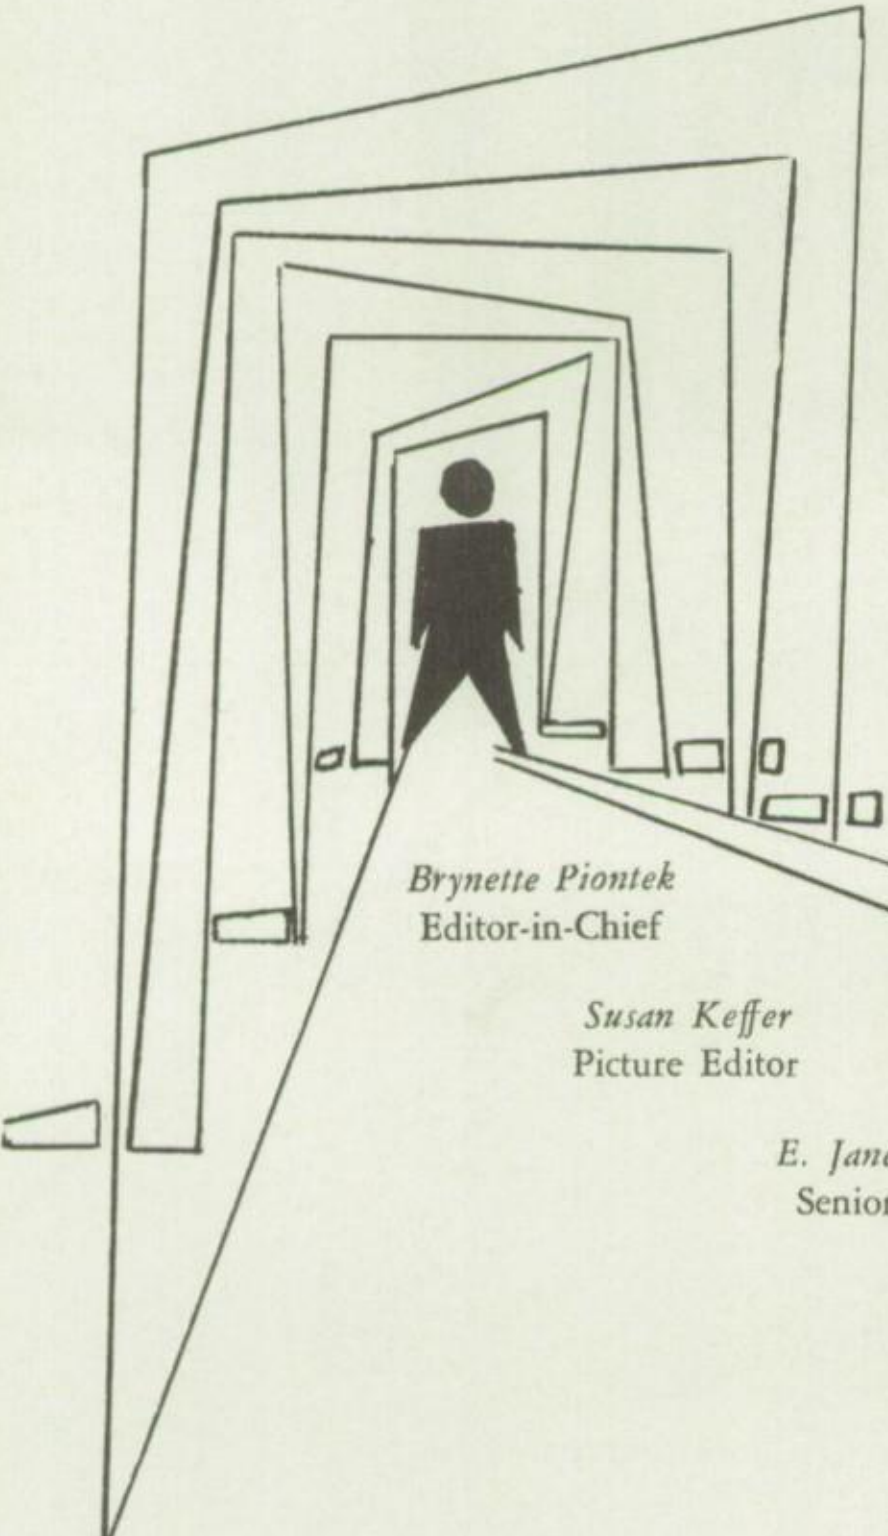

Through the design on the cover of the 1967 Arxalma, we have endeavored to symbolize the time tunnel and the student's relationship to the time element.

From the year that each student started school to the date of graduation, time marched on. By the mere fact of time, each student grew physically to the point of maturity, but it was time and all phases of the school environment which gave the individual student the opportunity of gaining educational and social growth. For each student, the challenge was to take advantage of the educational opportunities during his time span in the public schools.

At the close of the present school term, members of the "Class of 1967" ended their formal education in public schools. As shown collectively by a human figure on the cover, each senior has come to the threshold of a new era. Before each, lies the future.

Commencement will now have a new meaning, namely the beginning of a new life. It will then be each student's responsibility to utilize the various phases of his public school education to meet the new challenges of building a career, and of contributing his share to the promotion of the general welfare of our community, state, and nation.

As time continues to pass, this edition of the Arxalma and those following will gradually become treasured chronicles of eventful and memorable senior years for each graduating class of the Castle.

WORDS BY
Mildred E. Runyeon

MUSIC BY
Luther W. Goodhart

First system of musical notation. The key signature has four flats (B-flat, E-flat, A-flat, D-flat) and the time signature is common time (C). The music is written for voice and piano. Dynamics include f (forte) and p (piano). The lyrics are:

Foursquare her towers rise, Arx al ma fair!
 Ever her care shall be To keep us true,
 All down the years to come, Reverent we'll be!

Second system of musical notation. The lyrics are:

Wide-spread her beauty lies, Arx al ma rare!
 Up right, as piring, With fer vor due;
 Turning our hearts and steps Home ward to thee;

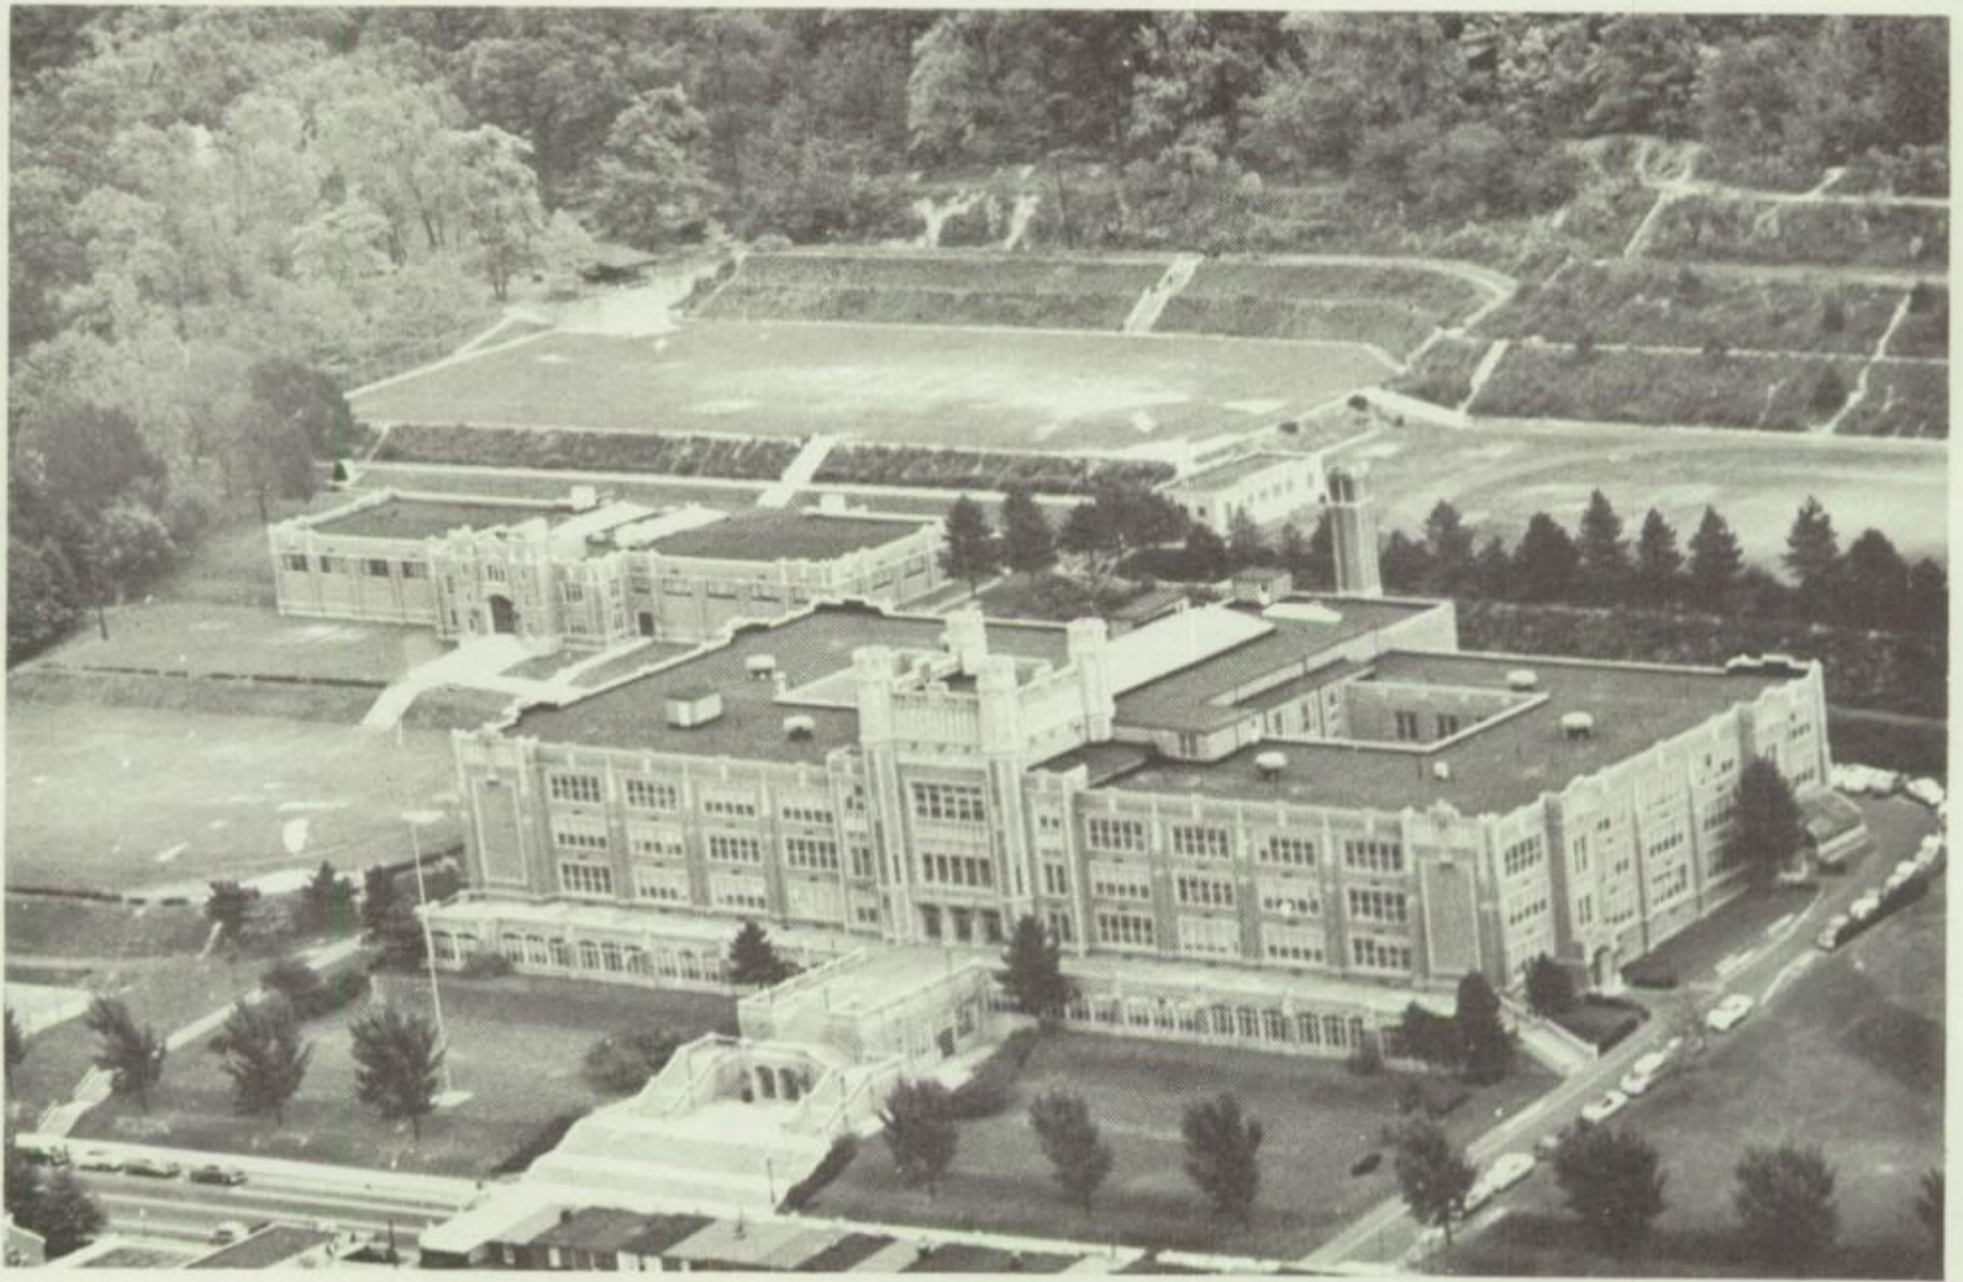

Third system of musical notation. The lyrics are:

Sheltered be neath her walls She keeps her own
 Crowning our visions all Skyward doth gleam
 And though our west ward ways May lead us far,

Fourth system of musical notation. The lyrics are:

Children of liber ty, We call her home.
 Our shining citi del, Strong and se rene.
 We'll keep Arx al ma pure, Our guid ing star.

The Castle-On-the-Hill

Reading High School, also known as the Castle-On-the-Hill, officially opened its doors on September 7, 1927. Total cost of the main building was $1,650,000. Ground area required for the structure of Gothic architecture was two and one-half acres. Other buildings on the present twenty-five and one-half acre campus are a school gymnasium which was built in 1929, an auto shop which was constructed in 1931, and a field house. Because of the extensive use of the latter for sports activities, and the need for better facilities, plans are currently being considered for the construction of a new modern field house with provisions for a swimming pool and basketball court. Another school related project underway off-campus is the new Reading-Muhlenberg Area Vocational-Technical School. In addition, plans for the construction of a planetarium on the site of the Reading Museum and Art Gallery are progressing.

Other campus facilities include two tennis courts, a girls' athletic field, a cinder track, and a practice field.

Origin of the school's Alma Mater, namely the "Arx-alma Song," occurred in June of 1930 when the first student-written and student-enacted pageant replaced the traditional commencement exercises. This song which contained original lyrics set to original music was especially written for the first commencement pageant.

Annual student enrollment at the Castle in recent years averaged about 2500 students. According to the records, peak enrollment occurred in 1935 with a total of 3,389 students.

Since the opening of the main building, approximately 26,000 students graduated from the high school. Of this number, 3,364 students earned membership in the National Honor Society.

Board of Education of the Reading School District

President—Dr. Albert J. Strohecker, D. D. S.

Vice President—Mr. Thomas W. Albert

Secretary—Mr. Russell O. Anderson

Treasurer—Mr. Richard H. Kauffman

Seated—Mr. Vincent Strollo, Jr., Mrs. Harvey Leinbach, Dr. Thaddeus J. Manuszak, M.D.; Dr. Albert J. Strohecker, D.D.S., President; Mr. Thomas W. Albert, Vice President; Mrs. William R. Bishop, Dr. Philip L. Rettew, M.D.; Standing—Mr. Terrence E. Connor, Esq., Assistant Solicitor; Russell O. Anderson, Secretary-Purchasing Agent; Mr. Harry L. Cramp, Superintendent of Buildings; Mr. Richard H. Kauffman, Treasurer; Mr. Hampton O. Rapp, Dr. Ralph C. Geigle, Superintendent of the Reading Public Schools; Mr. Foster W. Evans, Mr. John L. Rhoda, Esq., Solicitor; Mr. Albert Landis, Superintendent of Supplies; Absent—Dr. Emil J. Bartos, D.S.C., fulfilling the unexpired term of office of Dr. Philip L. Rettew, M.D. who retired from the Board of Education.

Members of the Board of Education served as the authorized legislative and administrative civic body for the Reading School District.

In an effort to provide the best type of educational environment necessary to keep the city's public school system in a position to meet the community's total educational needs, the Board of Education continued its plans to fulfill its long range building program. This year progress has been made for the construction of the joint Reading-Muhlenberg Area Vocational-Technical School. Recently, the Board of Education authorized the building of the fifth new elementary school. Plans for the proposed planetarium are progressing. Under consideration is the construction of a field house near Reading High School. Scheduled to be included in the new field house are a swimming pool and basketball court facilities.

In addition to its sincere interest in the building program, the Board of Education also furnished the means this past year for the continuous enrichment and expansion of the total school curriculum.

Too numerous to mention were the countless other services and facilities which the school board provided this past year to enable the city's youths to obtain maximum educational benefits from the Reading School District's modern and progressive public school system.

Administrators and Supervisors of the Reading School District

Superintendent of Schools
Dr. Ralph C. Geigle

Seated—Miss Katharine Kaufmann, Supervisor of Physical Education, Grades 1-6; Miss Ruth E. Ash, Supervisor of Intermediate Grades; Dr. Ralph C. Geigle, Superintendent of Reading Schools; Mr. Henry W. Monyer, Administrative Assistant to the Superintendent of Schools; Miss Florence M. Seiders, Supervisor of Home Economics; Standing—Mr. Augustus Monos, School Psychologist Research Assistant; Mr. William H. Bernhart, Director of Public Relations; Mr. Harry B. Bentz, Supervisor of Art; Mr. Richard Miller, Acting Director of Guidance and Attendance; Mr. Lorenzo Zeugner, Psychologist and Director of Special Education; Mr. Donald Reber, Director of Music; Mr. B. Franklin Graeff, Coordinator of Industrial Education; Miss Violet Zimmerman, Supervisor of Nutrition; Miss Caroline Artz, Supervisor of Kindergartens and Primary Grades; Absent—Anna L. Francis, Supervisor of Music, Kindergarten—Grades 1-3; Vera Auman, Acting Supervisor of Music, Grades 4-6; Samuel Gundy, Director of Visual Education; Mr. George A. Schieck, Coordinator of the Reading-Muhlenberg Area Vocational-Technical School; Mr. Emanuel Jacobs, deceased, former Director of Physical Education.

Efficient operation of the special instructional and school-related programs for the elementary and secondary schools in the Reading School District was assured this past year as a result of the faithful services of our district administrators and supervisors.

In the instructional fields of art, music, home economics, industrial education, and physical education, members of this group provided the means for the articulation of curricular and extra-curricular activities within their respective departments, and also for the coordinating and correlating of their programs with other departments.

Other personnel of this administrative unit contributed to the success of the total school program through their leadership in the school-related areas of school nutrition, visual education, public relations, special education, attendance, and guidance.

Two new administrative posts were created this year. Mr. Richard Cahn was named administrative assistant to the superintendent, and Mr. K. Robert Kohl was appointed coordinator of audio-visual education.

Principal's Administrative Council

Administrative aspects of Reading High School's comprehensive school program were capably handled by the Principal's Administrative Council which consisted of the principal, two vice principals, eight department heads, and two department chairmen.

Basically, specific and general school policies and regulations which were considered necessary for the efficient operation of the Castle's education program were determined and formulated by members of this group.

In addition, this administrative body continuously discussed, evaluated, and carefully selected new ways and means to enrich, expand, and correlate the various phases of the curricular and extra-curricular activities to meet the needs of today's high school youths.

Through the continuous interest, foresight, and leadership of this group, Reading High School's prominence as an outstanding educational institution was assured.

Seated—Mr. William C. Horine, Vice Principal; Mr. William H. Clouser, Vice Principal; Mr. Roland P. Kyle, Principal; Miss Marion J. Moyer, Principal's Secretary; Mrs. Hannah M. Orr, Acting Chairman of the Home Economics Department; Mrs. Louise E. Dreisbach, Head of the Foreign Language Department; Standing—Mr. W. Whalen Fenstermacher, Head of the Science Department; Mr. William S. Whiteley, Head of the Commercial Department; Mr. Joseph J. Grande, Acting Head of the Industrial Education Department; Mr. R. Stump, Chairman of the Physical Education Department; Mr. Owen James Davis, Acting Head of the Social Science Department; Mr. Joseph G. Plank, Head of the English Department

Guidance Department

Department Head—Mr. Joseph E. Haage

Through the services of this department, Castle students were able to receive personal guidance in matters pertaining to curriculum selection, social adjustments, college entrance requirements, subject difficulties, and vocational careers.

Group guidance was offered through such activities as college night, career conferences, social living classes, and senior forums in which topics on marriage and employment were discussed.

When needed, this department also arranged the means for instruction for homebound students.

Last Fall Mrs. Josephine H. Snyder joined the guidance staff. She formerly served as a social worker in the psychiatric clinic of the Pennsylvania Department of Health.

At the weekly meetings, members of the staff discussed various aspects of personal and group guidance with Mr. Joseph E. Haage, the department head.

Seated—Mr. Josephine H. Snyder, Mr. Joseph E. Haage, department head, Miss Mary A. Capallo; Standing—Mr. Clinton D. Getz, Mr. Connard C. Cramp, Mr. William H. Wisler

Through the efforts of Miss Mary A. Capallo, guidance counselor, a three-person panel was featured in the senior marriage forum assembly on November 30, 1966.

Standing—Miss Mary A. Capallo, guidance counselor; Seated—Reverend William Marlowe, Albright College Chaplain; Mr. Joseph G. Plank, moderator and head of the English department of Reading High School; Dr. Dorothea Kleppinger, M.D.

As one of her many duties, Mrs. Josephine H. Snyder, the newly-appointed staff member, assisted many students in selecting the necessary electives to fit the needs of the students.

English Department

Department Head—Mr. Joseph G. Plank

Curriculum enrichment this year includes the introduction of a pre-advanced placement course in English for eleventh grade students.

Worthy of note is the fact that Mr. James T. Reedy, a member of the department, served as the director for the "Bye Bye Birdie" musical which was the senior dramatic production for the "Class of 1967".

In another extra-curricular activity, Mr. Bertolet M. Bossler, another member of the staff, was named president of the Pennsylvania School Press Association. Mr. Joseph G. Plank, head of the English department, and present member of the Executive Board of the state press association, formerly served as its president and vice president.

At the close of one of the staff meetings, Mr. Joseph G. Plank, department head, informs his staff of the contents of a newly published textbook.

Mathematics Department

Department Head—Mr. R. Stuart Stump

As in previous years, the department continued its long range program of curriculum enrichment.

Special activities of the department included the presentation of two outstanding guest speakers to Castle students. On October 21, 1966, Dr. Edward W. Evans, head of the Mathematics Department of Kutztown State College, and mathematics consultant for the National Science Foundation, outlined modern techniques and trends in mathematics. On February 1 and 2, 1967, Mr. Ned R. Gehris, curator of the Reading planetarium, explained the significance of mathematics in the field of astronomy.

Audio-visual aids acquired by the department this year included the acquisition of another overhead projector.

Throughout the year, Mr. Richard C. Drey often used the blackboard to show his students how to solve difficult trigonometry problems.

Seated—Sandra Baer; Standing—Miss Karen Kunkel, instructor; Marilyn Lis, Murray Scott, Frederick Herman.

Commercial Department

Department Head—

Mr. William S. Whiteley

Castle students who were interested in preparing for careers in the commercial field could specialize in one of three areas of study, namely—in the secretarial, bookkeeping, or clerical programs.

New equipment included twelve new electric typewriters and a dictaphone. In addition, a shorthand laboratory was established in Room 110, and an eight-station portable two-channel dictation unit was erected in Room 111.

Curriculum changes included the transferring of all business English classes to the commercial department.

Mr. William S. Whiteley, staff head, shows the members of his department some points of interest in various commercial periodicals.

Commercial Department

Department Head—

Mr. William S. Whiteley

This department also provided a unique job placement program whereby commercial students at the Castle as well as others could enroll for employment in local and nearby industries.

Among the outstanding extra-curricular activities of the department was the Future Business Leaders of America Club which encouraged improvement in scholarship and student participation in worthwhile projects for the community.

On November 10, 1966, members of the organization learned the latest news about modern business machines by attending the conclave sponsored by the Reading Chapter of the Business Administrative Management Association.

Stenography students in Miss Edith R. Fairlamb's classes increased their speed as a result of taking frequent timed dictation drills

Industrial Education Department

Reading High School

Acting Department Head—Mr. Joseph J. Grande

From its beginning as the Castle-on-the-Hill in 1927, and on to 1964, the school's industrial education curriculum was confined mostly to the ground floor of Reading High School.

In the fall of 1964, the Reading School Board made provision to expand the shop program and facilities by adding five additional courses and utilizing the available rooms at the Northmont School. Since that time, fifteen courses have been offered in the high school's industrial education curriculum.

In the near future, the program will be expanded further and transferred when the proposed Reading-Muhlenberg Area Vocational Technical School is completed.

Comprehensive courses in basic auto mechanics, small appliance repair, upholstery, architectural drawing, and graphic reproduction technology were offered to students at the Northmont Annex.

New to Northmont this year was Mr. Richard J. Willingmyre, basic auto mechanics instructor, who replaced Mr. Walter T. Starr who was transferred to Reading High School.

Another off-campus vocational program which was sponsored by the Reading School District was the practical nursing course for senior girls. This elective was taught by Mrs. Helen M. Smith, R.N. at the Southern Junior High School.

This year marked the third school term that the Northmont School was utilized to offer additional industrial vocational courses for Castle students.

After one of the combined meetings with the industrial education department of the Castle, the Northmont faculty and Mr. Karl B. Davis, head teacher, discuss topics related to curriculum enrichment.

Mr. Gerald Evans, graphic reproduction technology instructor; Mr. Richard Willingmyre, auto mechanics instructor; Mr. Glenn R. Bigony, small appliance repair instructor; Mr. Raymond Holt, upholstery instructor; Mr. Karl B. Davis, head teacher and architectural drawing instructor.

Choral Director—

Mr. Theodore C. Walker

Instrumental Director—

Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

Choral electives offered this year were A cappella, Girls Glee Club, Girls' Chorus and Girls' Ensemble.

Instrumental units consisted of the Marching Band, Concert Orchestra, Brass Choir, Clarinet Quartet, the Castleaires, and three special ensembles.

Concert Band was not featured this year because the senior musicale made it necessary to form a senior pit orchestra in its place.

During one of his visits to Reading High School, Mr. Donald Reber, Director of Music for the Reading School District, discussed the choral and instrumental music to be featured at the Thirty-fifth Annual Evening of Music scheduled for May 3 1967.

Mr. Donald Reber, Director of Music for the Reading School District; Mr. Theodore C. Walker, choral instructor at Reading High School; Mr. Hiram D. Hoch, instrumental instructor at Reading High School

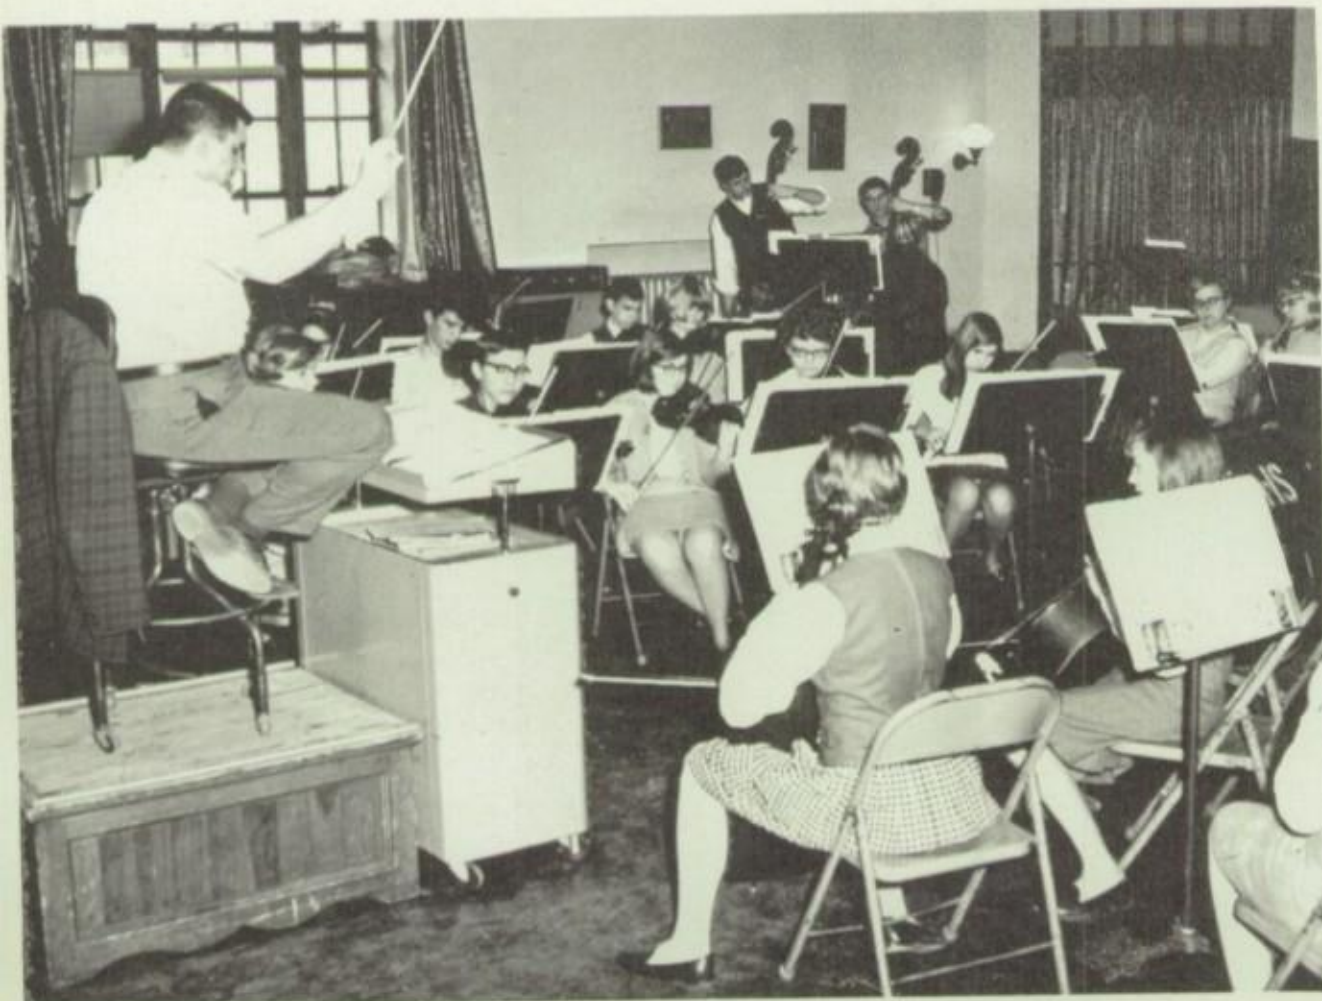

At a special rehearsal, Mr. Theodore C. Walker, choral instructor, helped several vocalists of A Cappella to prepare for the Easter Dawn service held annually at the Mt. Penn Tower.

Seated—Sharon O'Neil; Standing—Mr. Theodore C. Walker, choral instructor; Raymond Esterly, Anthony Scianna, Audrey Rentschler, Patricia Wilson, John Perella, Francis McCracken

Under the direction of Mr. Hiram D. Hoch, members of Concert Orchestra practice several selections of the Bye Bye Birdie musicale for a music assembly.

Art Department

Instructors—Miss Kathleen L. Reilly
Mrs. Palma Reynolds

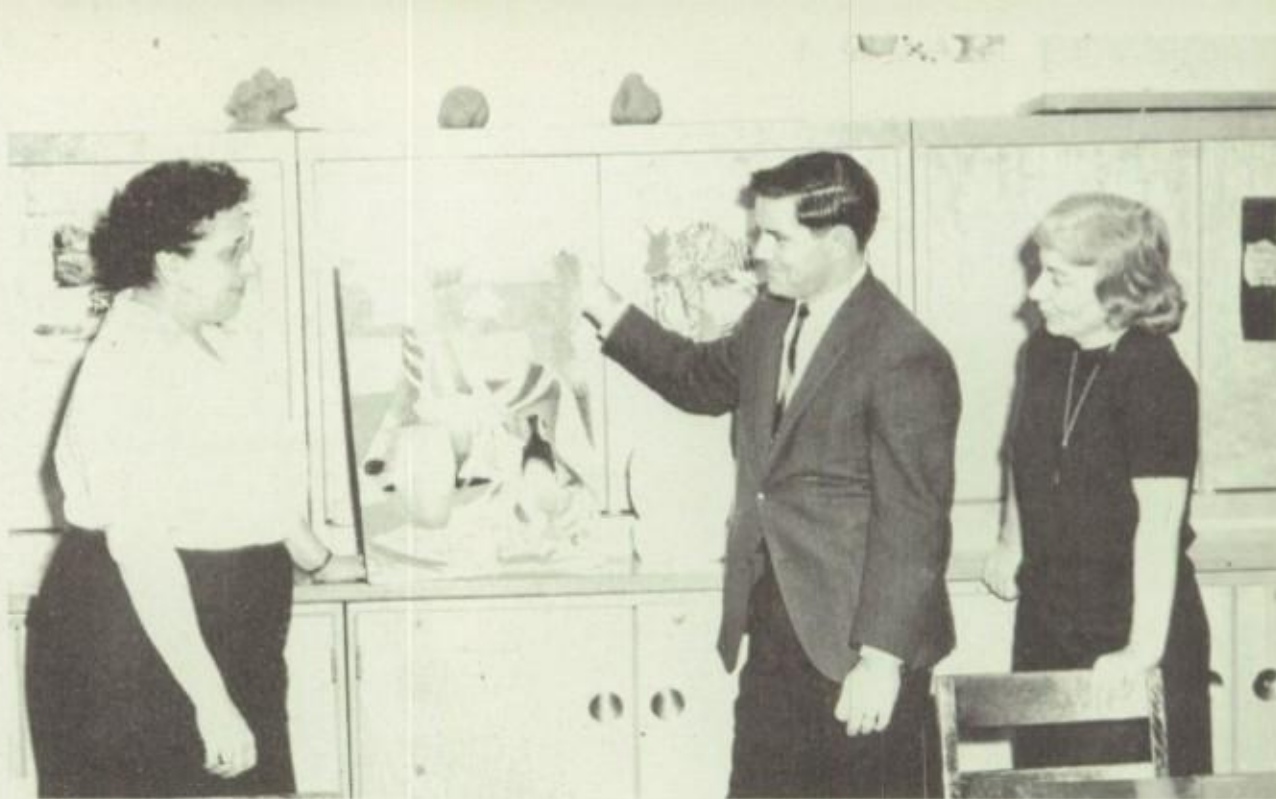

Extensive programs in commercial, general, and fine arts, plus practical and exploratory courses in crafts were offered by the art department at the Castle.

In the advanced commercial arts curriculum, students were able to develop skills in advertising techniques and make up, fashion and story illustration, plus industrial and stage design.

Portraiture, pencil sketching, plus still life and landscape painting constituted some of the major areas of emphases in the fine arts program.

Craft courses included projects in ceramics, masque making, sculpture, wood and tin painting, mosaics, and jewelry.

Art work for the 1967 Arxalma was provided by students who chose the yearbook designing course as an elective.

Art teachers of Reading High School and Mr. Harry B. Bentz, the Director of Art for the Reading School District, analyze the outstanding work of one of the Castle students.

Mrs. Palma Reynolds, art instructor of Reading High School, proudly shows the Yuletide mural which her students made for the lobby of the school.

Mrs. Palma Reynolds, art instructor

In Miss Kathleen L. Reilly's craft courses, students were always busily engaged in planning or completing a variety of creative projects.

Seated in foreground—Mary Ann Gerhard, Patricia Strunk, Irene Pauley; Standing—Robin Tiehl, Alan Kershner, Mary Tennant, Elaine Wisniewski, Darryl Hartenstine, Mary Keim, Miss Kathleen L. Reilly, instructor, Donna Spies

Home Economics Department

Acting Chairman—Mrs. Hannah M. Orr

For the girls, the department offered beginner and advanced programs in career foods and clothing-textiles, plus courses in homemaker training and family living.

Electives for boys were a home-oriented foods course for beginners, and an advanced program in institutional food preparation. In the latter course, students gained practical experience on a part-time basis in the students' cafeteria.

Annually, three students receive special recognition for their outstanding work in certain fields of home economics through awards offered by the department. These are the Junior Woman's Club Award, the Sterling Silver Homemaking Award, and the Shaeffer Award.

After one of the department meetings, members of the home economics staff discussed various center-piece arrangements for special occasions.

Seated—Mrs. Hannah M. Orr, acting chairman of the home economics department; Standing—Mrs. Barbara Spatz, Mrs. Margaret A. McCloskey, Mrs. Doris A. Herbine; Absent—Mrs. Marian L. Capkovic

Students of Mrs. Doris A. Herbine's classes took great pride in making wearing apparel for their personal use.

Seated—Suzanne Hill, Sandra Hettinger, Karen Whirl; Standing—Mrs. Doris A. Herbine, instructor

In Mrs. Barbara Spatz' chef courses, boys gained valuable training and experience in the home economics room, and later in the school cafeteria.

George Mullarkey, Stephen Randolph, Jonathan Lampros, Terry Blankenbiller, Mrs. Barbara Spatz, instructor; Charles Haldeman, Milan Williams, John Taylor

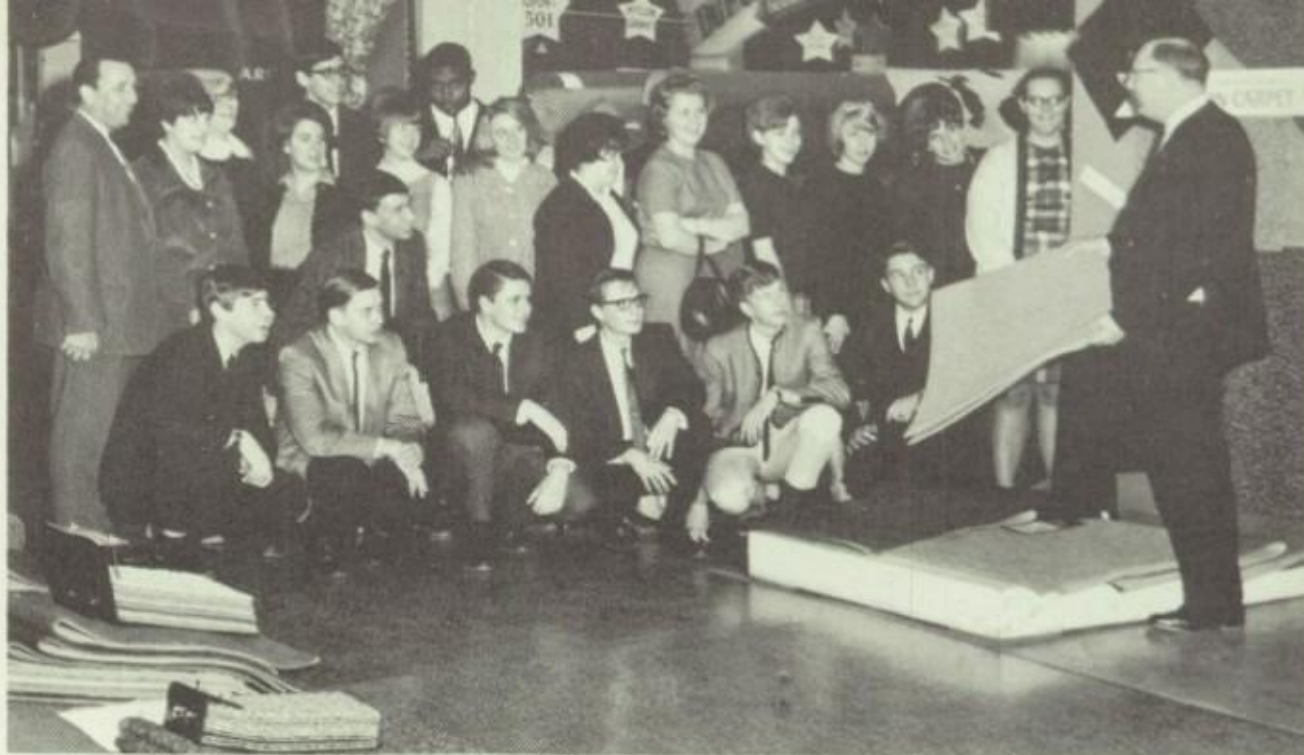

Distributive Education

Director—Mr. Joseph J. Grande

For the past twenty-five years, this study-experience vocational program has given Castle students the opportunity to train for positions as sales persons, store managers, and junior business executives.

In the morning, enrollees in this course learned the theoretical aspects of the program. In the afternoon, the trainees gained on-the-job experience under the supervision of Mr. Joseph J. Grande, the certified school coordinator, and cooperating local merchants.

Research studies have revealed that an average of about eighty per cent of the distributive education graduates remain in the retail field.

Mr. Stanley P. Heimbach, a local store executive, instructs the trainees about the various techniques used in merchandizing.

Kneeling—William Wood, Edmund Much, Stanley Stoudt, Douglas Hiester, James Dalton, Terry Usner; Standing—Mr. Joseph J. Grande, director and school coordinator; Carolyn Weidman, Margaretta Lichte, Rebecca Marburger, Jack Mull, Thomas Bickta, Viola Werner, Robert Templin, Paula Harakal, Beverly Jacobs, Susan Stewart, Kay Eisenbeise, Alicia Sulima, Patricia Dague, Carol Fisher, Mr. Stanley P. Heimbach, local store executive.

Practical Nursing

Director—Mrs. Ann T. Muller, R. N.

Instructor—Mrs. Helen M. Smith, R. N.

Another unique study-experience vocational course offered to seniors was the practical nursing program. Southern Junior High School was the site for the basic school instruction.

By completing all the phases of this program satisfactorily, and by passing the examination given by the State Board of Nurse Education and Licensure, senior girls of Reading High School could earn the title of a Licensed Practical Nurse

Class of 1967 Student Practical Nurses

Seated—Kathy Vitalo, Sandra Leib, Linda Hoffman, Mrs. Helen M. Smith, R.N. instructor; Mrs. Ann T. Muller, R.N., director; Peggy Schulze, Coralou Kauffman, Diane Hammond; Standing—Kathy Herb, Patsy Lewis, Linda Gray, Marsha Spraut, Jean Wenrich, Faye Ellison, Linda Nicholas, Linda Jankowiak, Virginia Burke, Linda Hibshman, Bonnie Minnich

Developmental Reading

Instructor—Mrs. Elizabeth W. Goodwin

Each sophomore is required to take this course which is designed to help each student to improve his reading rate, skills, and comprehension.

Juniors and seniors could also benefit from this program, but on an extra-curricular basis only.

Special study guides and aids, reading machines, and literature samples were but a few of the supplementary materials available to students in the reading laboratory in Room 115.

Clockwise—Linda Cawalla, Michael Shunk, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Goodwin, instructor; Michael Schaeffer, Donna Spies, Paula Ramos, Brenda Taylor

Health Department

Chairman—Mr. Harrison H. Stump

At the Castle, the health curriculum included an extensive health course in the tenth grade, a safety education program plus an optional driver training program in the eleventh grade, and an advanced health program including first aid in the twelfth grade.

Any senior who earned an average of 85 or above in the first aid course was awarded a Standard First Aid Red Cross Certificate.

Added to the twelfth grade curriculum the last school term and included again this year was the twelve-week Civilian Defense program recommended by the Department of Public Instruction and mandated by the Reading School District.

Supplementary aids used to enrich the three year health curriculum were graphic health and first aid charts, instructional films, plus a variety of other illustrative materials.

At one of their meetings, Mr. Harrison H. Stump, department chairman, and his staff discuss curriculum enrichment for the ensuing school year.

Seated—Mr. Harrison H. Stump, department chairman; Mrs. Janet B. Gorman, Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman, Mrs. Rita P. Burkey; Standing—Mr. Jack C. Prutzman, Mr. George T. Benedick, Mr. George A. Pappas, Mr. Charles S. Dunkelberger, Mr. Bernard Kaplan.

Special demonstrations in Mr. Jack C. Prutzman's health classes helped students to learn the basic principles of first aid.

David Jones, Wellington Cleaver, Mr. Jack C. Prutzman, instructor

Girls in Mrs. Rita P. Burkey's health classes gained better concepts of the course as a result of her frequent use of illustrative health charts.

Kathleen Turpin, Mrs. Rita P. Burkey, instructor, Melanie Evans, Deborah Randazzo

Health Services Department

School Nurses—Mrs. Maxine D. Ernesto, R. N.
Mrs. JoAnn Gutshall, R. N.

School Physician—Dr. Lynwood Keller, M. D.

School Dentist—Dr. R. Douglas Irwin, D. D. S.

On the second floor of the high school, modern health room facilities, and the services of two registered nurses were available to Castle students, faculty members, and other school personnel who needed first aid or special nursing care.

As needed, the school nurses also rendered valuable professional assistance in such large scale projects as the tubercular testing program.

Through this department, means were also provided for giving the state mandated audiometric and vision tests to students of the sophomore and senior classes, complete physical and dental examinations for members of the junior class, and X-rays for the student body and school employees.

In addition to their routine and special services, the school nurses had the gigantic task of keeping the cumulative health records of all Castle students up-to-date.

Mrs. Maxine D. Ernesto, R.N., Mrs. JoAnn Gutshall, R.N.

Our school physician, Dr. Lynwood Keller, gave complete physical examinations to students of the junior class who selected to have this service at school.

Frank Hurley, student; Dr. Lynwood Keller, school physician

Eleventh grade students who desired dental examinations at the school received this service from Dr. R. Douglas Irwin, the school dentist.

Seated—Roger Kreisher, student; Mrs. Dorothy N. Eberly, dental hygienist; Standing—Dr. R. Douglas Irwin, D.D.S.

Physical Education Department

Chairman—Mr. Harrison H. Stump

Besides the regular physical education program members of this department sponsored extra-curricular activities including four intra-mural sports for boys and nine for girls. For students who wished to prepare for careers in the physical education or related fields this department offered an advanced physical education elective for senior boys and girls.

Major renovations this year included the painting of the girls' gym and the erection of specially designed peg boards for the boys' gym.

Sadly missed since October 19, 1966, was the late Mr. Emanuel Jacobs, who served as the Physical Education Director for the Reading School District since 1947.

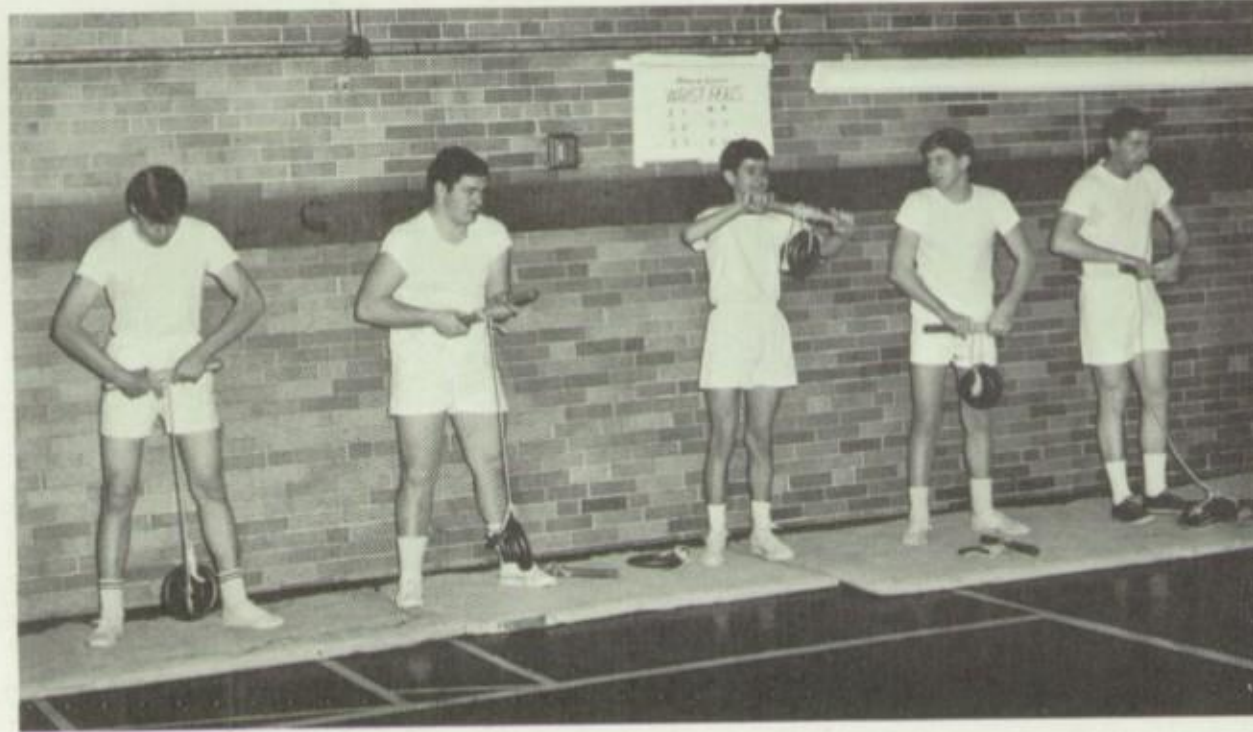

At the beginning of the school year, Mr. Harrison H. Stump, acting chairman, informs members of his staff of their respective teaching and room assignments.

Seated—Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman, Mrs. Janet B. Gorman, Mr. Harrison H. Stump, chairman, Mrs. Rita P. Burkey; Standing—Mr. Jack Prutzman, Mr. George T. Benedick, Mr. George A. Pappas, Mr. Charles L. Dunkelberger, Mr. Bernard Kaplan

Featured for the first time this year in the national physical fitness program were the circuit training exercises which were designed to help body development.

Calvin Remp, Lyn Clark, David Borrell, Steven Ochricler, William Moll

One of the special athletic activities in the girls' sports program was giant volleyball.

Safety Department

Instructors—Mr. Charles L. Dunkelberger
Mr. Bernard Kaplan
Mr. George A. Pappas

All eleventh grade students had to take the comprehensive safety education course in order to meet graduation requirements.

Optional for students of the same grade was the department's extensive driver training program. Three qualified driver training instructors plus two district-owned driver training vehicles were available to help the trainees obtain the necessary theoretical backgrounds and practical experience to pass the state driver's test. Generally speaking, about three hundred and fifty students take advantage of the training program annually.

In both courses, pamphlets, booklets, films, newspapers, magazine articles, and periodicals were utilized by the members of the department to supplement their classroom instruction.

Lectures and demonstrations by the certified instructors gave students opportunities to learn valuable information about car construction, operation, and maintenance.

Standing—Linda Heffner, Mr. George A. Pappas, instructor; Edmond Andrewzewski, Dena Yeager, Nancy Zielinski

Matters pertaining to vehicular and pedestrian safety constituted another important phase of the department's driver training program.

Standing—Edmond Andrewzewski, Linda Pfleger, Mr. Charles L. Dunkelberger, instructor; Westley Johnson, Kerry Denunzio

Basic instruction received in the classroom and practical experience gained in district-owned cars enabled trainees to acquire the necessary theoretical backgrounds and skills to become good drivers.

Standing—Officer Al Paris, Mr. Bernard Kaplan, instructor; Catharine Bausman, Mr. Charles L. Dunkelberger, instructor; Seated—Sandra Arndt, Rosemarie Witman

Library Department

Head Librarian—Mrs. Pauline Obold

Library Assistant—Mrs. Jean Hanley

Library Secretary—Miss Michelle Holland

Reading High School's well-equipped school library offered Castle students close to seventeen thousand home reading books for enjoyment, seven sets of modern encyclopedias for research work, a choice selection of one hundred and twenty-five periodicals for diversified reading, plus four daily and two weekly newspapers for current events and miscellaneous information.

Among the other materials available were recordings of outstanding classical and literary works, a wide range of informative brochures and instructional pamphlets for special class projects, and numerous reference publications.

Before the opening of the school term, the librarians and the secretary faced the gigantic task of getting the new books ready for circulation.

Mrs. Jean K. Hanley, library assistant; Miss Michelle Holland, library secretary; and Mrs. Pauline S. Obold, head librarian.

At the circulation desk, the librarians made periodic checks to make certain that the junior librarians provided efficient and proper service to Castle students.

Karen Ruberton, Mrs. Jean K. Hanley, library assistant, Terry Breedy.

Atlases, pamphlets, and other miscellaneous publications in the library served as important sources for students' reference work.

Linda Lehr

Library Department

Head Librarian—Mrs. Pauline S. Obold
Library Assistant—Mrs. Jean K. Hanley
Library Secretary—Miss Michelle Holland

Highlighting the special activities of the student librarians was the field trip to the Sixteenth Annual Teen-Age Library Association Convention which was held on Wednesday, October 12, 1966, at the Conrad Weiser High School in Robesonia, Pennsylvania. Featured at the conclave were twelve discussion groups, and well-known librarians who served as guest speakers and consultants. Ten students accompanied by Mrs. Jean K. Hanley, library assistant, served as the delegation from the Castle.

Reading High School's professional library affiliations included membership in the Pennsylvania Library Association and the American Library Association.

Library personnel or staff members were always available to help Castle students with research projects.

Miss Michelle Holland, library secretary; Jean Hyneman, Virginia Gerhard.

Throughout the year, timely bulletin board displays in the library attracted the attention and interest of the student body.

Mary Ignatosky

In the workroom, staff members had to complete countless jobs before the new as well as the repaired books could be placed on the library shelves.

Cafeteria Staff

Manager—Mrs. Ruth M. Mohler

Preparing a daily noon meal for approximately one thousand four hundred and forty-one students and for an average of one hundred and thirty-three faculty members and other school employees constituted a gigantic task for the thirty-three members of the cafeteria staff.

As in the previous year, President Lyndon B. Johnson proclaimed a National School Lunch Week. Governor William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania made a similar proclamation.

In observance of the special week, the school cafeteria staff prepared an all-state menu on Wednesday, October 12, 1966.

To accommodate the large student body and school personnel at noon, the members of the cafeteria staff had to utilize four lunch periods.

Seated—Anna Buckley, Mildred Monasmith, Margaret Babb, Myrtle Strunk, Jean Molitare, Esther Neider, Irene Reichenbach, Lilian Leinbach, Elsie Kutz, Catherine Miller, Ann Wood, Evelyn Accordino; Standing—Martha Scholwin, Doris Wescott, Katherine Guldin, Elizabeth Robidonx, Helena Fisher, Betty Whirl, Mary Rhein, Lois Brenner, Dorothy Kreshner, Helen Cleplinski, Sara Pauling, Ruth Sonon, Marie Motyl, Marie Bagenstose, Ruth Shade, Caroline Seidel, Clara Wolf, June Redcay, Jennie Saylor, Naomi Gallagher, Mrs. Ruth Mohler, manager

Besides his supervisory duties as head of the custodial staff, Mr. Carl F. Hiester completed countless other tasks, such as making periodic checks of the emergency equipment.

In addition to her regular duties, Mrs. Margaret R. Stumhofer had to keep a continuous inventory of books and supplies on hand.

Auxiliary Personnel

Custodial Staff

Head Custodian—Mr. Carl F. Hiester

Personnel of this group performed their respective tasks in the main building, the auto shop, the two gymnasiums, the field house, the three athletic fields, and on the remaining twenty-five and one-half acres of campus which includes two tennis courts, a girls' sports field, a cinder track, and a practice field.

Bookroom Custodian

Mrs. Margaret R. Stumhofer

As custodian of the Castle's three bookrooms, Mrs. Margaret R. Stumhofer was usually engaged in storing and distributing books and supplies to the school's one-hundred and thirty-three faculty members.

In addition, at specific times each school day, she served as an elevator attendant.

Message

Greetings to the Class of 1967:

These three years together have been most gratifying ones to us as your sponsors and, we hope, to you, too, as members of the "Class of 1967". Together we have seen your class develop a spirit of cohesiveness, a willingness to work hard together, and a pride when that work was well done. Together we have worked and laughed and dreamed. Together we have accomplished much.

Now our paths must part—yours to forge ahead in the careers of your choice and ours to remain in the Castle-on-the-Hill to continue to serve Reading High School students. The future will probably hold many surprises for you, most of them quite pleasant. We hope that these years in the Castle will have helped to mold and prepare you for that future—to have increased in you an ever-deepening thirst for still more knowledge; to have created a keener awareness of yourselves and others round about you; to have fostered a love of truth at whatever cost; and to have set you out on a quest for wisdom, which is the principal thing.

Your motto, "We Shall Find a Way or Make One," can mark the way to success if it is used rightly. If it means to you a fostering of perseverance through difficulty, a forging ahead for truth through darkness, a strengthening of noble purpose—then it is the mark of an intelligent, determined generation making its way onward through a perplexing period of man's history. If, however, your motto should mean to you a blind stubbornness to have one's own whim of the moment regardless of the cost to others, if it should mean a disregard for the integrity of man—then it will lead to disaster.

Each generation has looked at the next with a bit of apprehensiveness, a bit of fear and a bit of prayer—fear that was strong, young arrow may miss the mark, perhaps because it was misdirected or perhaps because of an intrinsic flaw in the arrow itself—and a prayer that somehow the flight may be true and the desired goal be reached. As man has progressed, the arrow has become a missile and the site lifted to outer space; yet the basic hopes and fears are there. We hope we have done our part in setting the "Class of 1967" off on a right course.

May your flight find success.

Message

The receiving of our diplomas marks the end of a long journey; a journey, which has covered many paths in the realms of education and development. Perhaps at the outset, our trek through learning seemed a task impossible; but, as we look back in retrospect, we have realized our mission in a brevity of time.

Many of our hours these past few months have been spent in hard work and preparation for exams. Much of this time has not been a bed of roses; however, it must be remembered that—what we obtain too easily, we regard too lightly. In this light, it is my hope that each of us be able to recall and apply the diversified reservoir of knowledge and enlightenment we have gathered at the Castle-on-the-Hill.

Each of us will cherish his memories of our years together. The studies and friendships which were so much a part of these glorious years. Each one of us should strive to mold these souvenirs of time into a base for his future endeavors; endeavors which offer unlimited opportunity, to those who, in earnest, seek to reap the fruits of true greatness.

As we mature, we become custodians of the great American heritage. Making the dreams of today the realities of tomorrow is part of this vast inheritance. Our generation is merely another link in the long chain of human histories. Let us make ours one of the stronger links in that chain by allowing the world to enjoy a better existence as the end result of our combined efforts.

I find it necessary to extend a special "Thank You" to our senior class sponsors for their excellent guidance and assistance, and to everyone who helped make our senior year a successful one.

In closing, I would like to leave with you the words of the great statesman Winston Churchill. He is speaking to a war-torn, but still very proud England. These words spoken to his people, fit very aptly into what might be called our finest hour—

"This is not the end, nor is it the beginning of the end; but, perhaps it is the end of the beginning."

Senior Committees

Senior Executive Committee

Sponsor—Mr. Joseph J. Grande

At the end of the 1965-1966 school term, nineteen students were chosen to serve on this important council which acted as an advisory board for the senior class. To expedite the senior program these members were named as the chairmen of the thirteen minor committees.

In September, more students were added to the Senior Executive Committee to provide complete homeroom representation within the group.

Seated—Mr. Joseph J. Grande, sponsor; Standing—Cynthia Bloom, Candice Ramsay, Geraldine Kindlik, Karen Shaffer, senior class treasurer; Richard Brown, William Hunsberger, Bonnie Piccone, Catharine Souders, John Weidenhammer, senior class president.

Senior Committees

Motto, Flower, and Color Committee

Sponsor—Mr. Joseph J. Grande
Co-Chairmen—Linda Preskell
 Ann Parzanese

This committee was one of the first to swing into action. In the spring of 1966, the group evaluated, then submitted several suggestions for a class motto, flower, and a color combination to the members of the Class of '67.

As a result of a class vote for each category, the senior class selected "We Shall Find a Way or Make One" as the class motto; the American Beauty Rose as the class flower; and navy blue and silver as the official class colors.

Seated—Concetta Canfora, Linda Preskell, co-chairman; Ann Parzanese, co-chairman; Standing—Jane Jeschke, Sharon Seker, Miriam Peckman, Mr. Joseph J. Grande, sponsor; Kathleen Lerch, Nancy Himmelberger, Catharine Souders, Sarah Jane Kennedy, Janice Smith, Janet Snyder

Welfare Committee

Sponsor—Miss Anna V. Wheeler
Co-Chairmen—Lois Farber
 Catharine Souders

If any member of the senior class was unable to attend regular classes because of prolonged illness or hospitalization, that student certainly enjoyed receiving the cheerful get-well cards sent by members of this committee. When possible, students of this committee also gave of their time to make visits to their convalescing classmates.

Another important duty of this committee was to extend a message of sympathy and comfort to any student who experienced a bereavement in his immediate family during the school year.

Seated—Catharine Souders, co-chairman; Rhonda Stock; Standing—Stanley Packard, Dorothy Specht, Elizabeth Swoyer, Mary Spangler, Ann Specht, Eloise Strunk.

Prom Committee Construction

Sponsor—Mrs. Jess F. Cwiklinski
Adviser—Mr. Robert K. Hahn
Co-Chairmen—William Hunsberger
Charles Jones

Working under the supervision of the construction committee, students of the art department and the wood shops prepared, assembled, and erected the scenery for the senior prom.

Through the combined efforts and services of all students associated with this project, the Albright College Field House was transformed into the enchanting "A Magical Evening in Oz", the theme of this gala event.

Co-Chairmen—Sarah Jane Kennedy
Lois Farber
Candace Ramsay

Basically, after the prom ticket deadline, members of this committee had the gigantic task of preparing the master plan for the seating of the couples and making table assignments.

In determining the layout, committee members had to provide ample areas for access to and from the reserved tables, the refreshment table, and the dance floor.

Seated—Timothy Price, Marjorie Mundell, Candace Ramsay, co-chairman; Standing—Sarah Jane Kennedy, co-chairman; Susan Motze, Lois Farber, co-chairman; Mrs. Jess F. Cwiklinski, sponsor; Mr. James T. Reedy, sponsor

Senior Show Committee

Sponsor—Mr. James T. Reedy

Co-Chairmen—Sarah Jane Kennedy
Robert Spitz

Publicity for the senior class play, "Bye Bye Birdie", was scheduled to be handled by this committee.

In addition, by dancing and singing in the choruses and helping on the production staff, many of the members contributed their share to the success of the show which was presented on April 6, 7, and 8, 1967.

Seated—Louise Coleman, Linda Fries, Robert Pawlewicz, Mr. James T. Reedy, sponsor; Karen Shaffer; Standing—Karen Houck, Shirley S'Choiniere, Donald Dixon, Miriam Peckman, Dana Luigard, Dorothy Johnson, Joan Goodwin, Luvena Potts

Publicity and Scrapbook Committee

Sponsors—Mrs. Jess F. Cwiklinski
Mr. Joseph J. Grande

Co-Chairmen—Geraldine Kindlik
Cynthia Bloom

Through periodic announcements over the school's public address system and detailed articles in the Red and Black, this committee kept the students of the graduating class well informed of the schedule of senior activities.

For the scrapbook, these students collected newspaper clippings, photographs, and mementoes which had special significance to the Class of 1967.

Seated—Carol Longenecker, Cynthia Bloom, co-chairman; Geraldine Kindlik, co-chairman; Carolyn Kershner; Standing—Mr. Joseph J. Grande, sponsor; David Weidner, Shirley S'Choiniere, Ronnie Welker, Georgia Miseyko, Donna Roche

Commencement Committee

Sponsors—Mr. James T. Reedy
Mrs. Jess F. Cwiklinski

Co-chairmen—Ann Parzanese
Karen Shaffer

Shortly before the close of the school year, this committee folded, collated, and packed commencement programs for the graduation exercises on June 8, 1967.

In addition, members of this committee placed the diplomas in leather cases and arranged them in alphabetical order.

Later, final distribution of diplomas was made by the twenty-seven senior home-room teachers.

Seated—Sharon Lascomb, Marjorie Mundell, Cheryl DeStasio, Timothy Price; Standing—Patricia Dague, Thomas Bickta, Angela Licht, Geraldine Wetzel, John Leffler, Douglas Hiesler, William Keeler, Ann Parzanese, co-chairman; Mrs. Jess F. Cwiklinski, sponsor

Senior Committees

Baccalaureate Committee

Sponsor—Mr. Joseph J. Grande

Chairman—Stanley McCarty

Preceding the Baccalaureate Services on Sunday, June 4, 1967, the chief task of the members of this committee was to acquaint the graduating seniors with the processional and recessional procedures for the event.

As in previous years, two services were held in order to accommodate the entire membership of the senior class and their families.

Seven members of the clergy conducted this solemn senior activity this year.

Seated—Sandra Garrett, Dawn Kremp, Susan Kornblit, Sandra Marshman; Standing—Mr. Joseph J. Grande, sponsor; Janice Morrison, Stanley McCarty, chairman; Thomas Mavreles, Cynthia Radcliff, John Gross, Sharon O'Neill, Elaine Frantz, Lisbeth Fox, Debra Long, Marsha Donaldson, Michael Billys

Reunion Committee

Sponsors—Mrs. Anna V. Wheeler
Mr. Joseph J. Grande

Chairman—Sarah Jane Kennedy

In order that the members of the Class of 1967 could be informed of the dates, places, and times for future reunions and get-togethers, the members of this committee prepared and kept an up-to-date master file of names and addresses of students of the graduating class.

Additional work of this committee will not not begin until five years after graduation when the first class reunion will take place.

Seated—Linda Fries, Sarah Jane Kennedy, chairman; Mrs. Anna V. Wheeler, sponsor; Kathleen Lerch, Karen Hook; Standing—Pamela Kehs, Joseph Manning, Mr. Joseph J. Grande, sponsor; Mary Jane Cornelius, Kathryn Wagner, Carolyn Kershner, Jeanette Ciabattoni

Commencement Address

"1928—1967—2006"

Commencement Speaker

Dr. Clark Kerr

Author, Educator, and Lecturer

Dr. Clark Kerr was President of the University of California from 1958 until January 1967. Before becoming president, Dr. Kerr was chancellor of the Berkley campus which is one of the eight general campuses of the university. Previously, as a member of the Berkley faculty, he served as the Director of the Institute of Industrial Relations, and to date, he still retains the title of Professor of Industrial Relations in the School of Business Administration and Department of Economics. His earlier experiences included teaching at Antioch College, in Ohio, and later at Stanford University, California, and the University of Washington, in Washington.

He is the author of numerous articles and books such as Labor and Management in Industrial Society and The Uses of the University. He served as a labor arbitrator on several presidential commissions and committees, including the late President Kennedy's Committee on Labor, and President Eisenhower's Commission on National Goals. During World War II he served with the War Labor Board, and he is currently a trustee of the Rockefeller Foundation.

Dr. Kerr was born May 17, 1911, in Reading, Pennsylvania, and is a graduate of Reading High School. He received his bachelor's degree at Swarthmore College in Pennsylvania, and his Ph.D. in economics at Berkley in 1939, and has also received honorary degrees from a number of universities and colleges, including Harvard, Princeton, George Washington University, Bordeaux, Strathclyde (Scotland), and the University of Hong Kong.

ACTIVITIES

ORGANIZATIONS

National Honor Society

Sponsor—Mr. H. Robert Barrett

Assistant Sponsor—

Mr. Paul Leo Sommers, Jr.

To qualify for basic consideration in this organization, a senior was required to have a scholastic average in the upper third of the graduating class.

By using a rating scale, teachers then evaluated the students on leadership, character, and service.

Membership was limited to no more than fifteen percent of the senior class.

Seated—Miriam Peckman, Elizabeth Kalbach, speaker; Cynthia Bloom, speaker; Catherine Souders, Rhonda Stock, Standing—David Weidner, speaker; Thaddeus Jamula, speaker; Mr. Paul Leo Sommers, Jr., assistant sponsor; Mr. H. Key Club

Sponsor—Mr. Bruce L. Dietrich

Among the many activities which this group sponsored this past year were the annual activity queen contest, a "Safe Driving Week" campaign, a hayride, a picnic, a bowling party, and the Charity Ball.

Civic-minded members of this organization also collected monies for the Cystic Fibrosis Drive, the Birth Defects Drive, and for the Heart Fund foundation.

At the 1966 Pennsylvania District Convention in Philadelphia, the Reading Key Club earned first place awards in the gold division in both the scrapbook and the achievement reports.

Y-Teens

Sponsor—Miss Carol L. Fegley

Membership in this organization this year was one hundred and thirty-five girls. Meetings were held weekly in the students cafeteria in the Castle or at the Y.W.C.A.

Community services rendered by members of this organization included a Christmas party for underprivileged children, and assistance with the Heart and Cancer Fund collections.

As a special project funds were raised for the support of a Korean foster child by the door to door sale of cakes.

Highlighting the social activities of the organization was the "Holiday Ball" held at the Woman's Club of Reading on Wednesday, December 28, 1966.

Anastasia Rellis, vice president of the local chapter, served on the state planning committee for arranging details for the 1967 Y-Teen conference.

Hi-Y Club

Sponsor—Mr. James T. Reedy

Collecting money for the Heart Fund, the Cystic Fibrosis Fund, and the March of Dimes highlighted the club's many community service projects for the year.

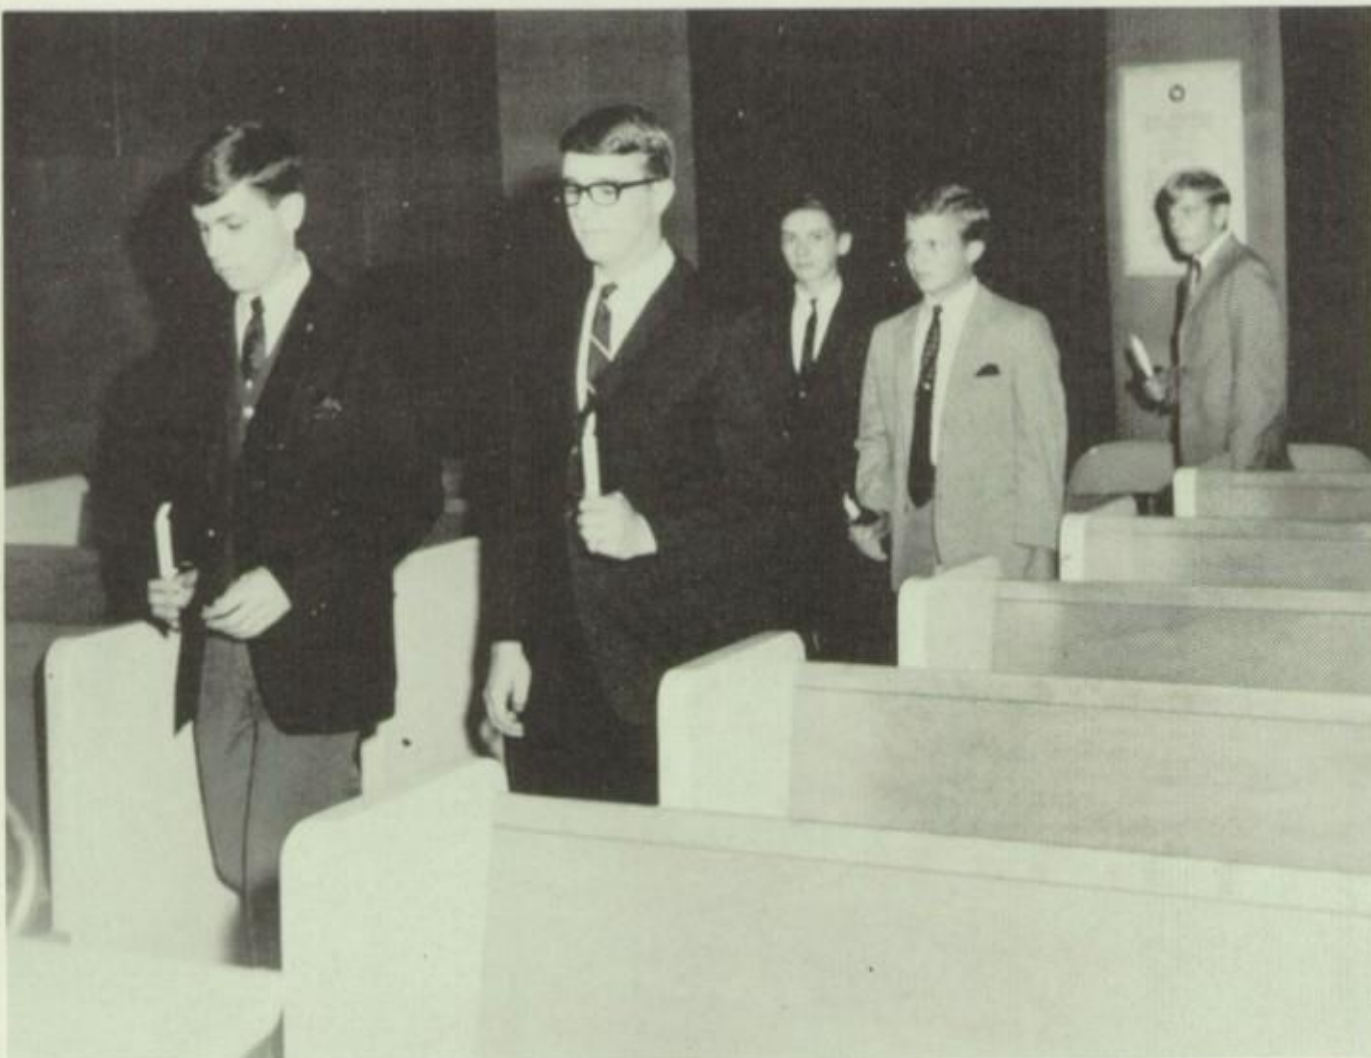

Club members also sponsored the Youth and Law Day programs, participated in Teen-Folks discussions, and attended the State Hi-Y Model Legislature where Brian Bagenstose of the Reading High School chapter was elected Lt. Governor by the convention.

This year the club again entered two teams in Hi-Y basketball competition. For the third consecutive season, the Castle lads "A" team won the Berks County Hi-Y Basketball League Championship.

For the fourth consecutive year, members of the club sold the popular maroon and white "Reading High School" sweatshirts as a means of raising money for various club activities.

Mr. James T. Reedy, sponsor; John Parella, Hi-Y County Council representative; Brian Bagenstose, vice president; John Leffler, secretary-treasurer; David Weidner, president; Charles Tannery, representative-at-large.

Two newly-appointed Hi-Y representatives lead the way for candidates during the solemn induction ceremony at the Y.M.C.A. Chapel.

Charles Tannery, representative-at-large; John Parella, Hi-Y Council representative; Gary Reigel, Andrew Farrara, Steven Stumhofer.

In a special exhibition contest with the Reading High School faculty, on February 24, 1967, Reading's championship Hi-Y basketball team defeated the faculty 44-31.

Civic Pride Club

Sponsor—Mr. James W. McIntyre

On the first Saturday of each school month at 7:30 P.M., members of the Civic Pride Club gathered in the Reading High School Auditorium to enjoy lectures given by qualified speakers on topics of general interest or to take part in special student activities.

Highlighting the special programs was the annual talent show given this year by the students of the tenth grade on Saturday, January 14, 1967.

Field trips sponsored by the club included visits to spots in New York City, to the historical site of Annapolis, Maryland, and to Washington, D.C., at cherry blossom time.

In anticipation of a memorable trip to New York City, officers of Civic Pride Club project their enthusiasm by displaying the signs made by their creative sponsor, Mr. James W. McIntyre.

Bradley Richardson and Michael Sheldon displayed their musical versatility during the tenth grade talent show.

Standing—Bradley Richardson, guitar; Seated—Michael Sheldon, drums

Another featured act of the show was the impersonations of Jimmy Durante and Frank Sinatra by Craig Scott and Wally Scott.

Graig Scott, pianist; Wallace Scott, vocalist

Red and Black

Adviser—Mr. Joseph G. Plank

Reading High School's newspaper, the Red and Black, included informative news items, entertaining and timely feature articles, interesting editorials, and dynamic sports reviews.

With this year's issues, the publication has appeared on the school scene for a period of sixty-nine years.

As in previous years, the newspaper was affiliated with the Pennsylvania School Press Association. Currently, Mr. Joseph G. Plank, the adviser of the Red and Black, is a member of the Executive Board of this state press organization. Previously, he served as its vice president and president.

Staff heads met weekly with the editor-in-chief to discuss the format of each issue of the newspaper.

Seated—Karen Lippold, feature editor; Gregory Paine, editor-in-chief; Audrey Yankowski, news editor; Standing—David Brittain, business editor; Edwin Beidler, sports editor

Athletic activities at the Castle received a prominent place in the paper as a result of the careful planning of the sports department.

Seated—Edwin Beidler, sports editor; Standing—Linda Knerr, sports staff; Ronald Welker, sports staff

Two members of the feature staff select pictures to illustrate their respective articles in one of the issues of the paper.

Mr. Joseph G. Plank, adviser; Gregory Paine, editor-in-chief

Red Pen

Adviser—Mr. Joseph G. Plank

Red Pen was the traditional literary magazine consisting totally of material received from aspiring writers at Reading High School. Creative materials which were submitted for publication included poems, short stories, essays, and artwork. Two issues of the magazine were published this year. All phases of production were handled by the 4X English class.

This year for the first time in more than a quarter of a century, the Red Pen took on a new look. Overall size of the publication was significantly increased allowing for a double column of type on each page and more space for illustrative purposes.

During the year, staff editors frequently met to discuss format and policy of the magazine.

Cindy Bloom, poetry editor; Karen Houck, publicity editor; Steve Esser, editor-in-chief; Linda Preskell, essay editor; Peter Blau, short story editor.

Literary content for the magazine was determined after staff member made careful analysis of the student materials.

Seated—Sharon O'Neill, Sharon Eckenroth
Standing—Linda Fries, Mae Deeds, Ruth Heffleger, Johanna Larese, Christine Kozal, Georgia Miseyko

Castle Page

Adviser—Mr. Joseph G. Plank

By publishing The Castle Page as a class project, journalism students were able to put to practical use the knowledge which they gained through classroom instruction.

For the most part, editorials, special articles, news items and sports reviews were featured in the publication.

Basically, this mimeographed newspaper served as an incentive to students who were interested in becoming future staff members of the school newspaper—the Red and Black.

While working on the newspaper project, students in the class were busily engaged a variety of journalistic tasks.

Seated—Nancy Ettaro, feature editor; Kathryn Wagner, co-editor; Susanne Killinger, co-editor; Joy Salon, news editor; Standing—Barbara Levin; Theresa Brown, classified editor; Suzanna Beichtel

On-the-Castle Campus

Sponsor—Mr. Joseph G. Plank

Life at Reading High School was appropriately portrayed through the school's weekly radio show, "On-the-Castle Campus." Headquarters for the program was in the W.E.E.U. radio studios, and air time was 11:30 A.M. to 12 noon each Saturday morning.

Featured weekly were exclusive school news reports, comprehensive sports reviews, student talent, interviews with guests, and popular "teen" recordings.

As a result of these dynamic radio programs, the community was always accurately informed of the countless activities and achievements of Castle students.

Before showtime, Robert Spitz, master of ceremonies, always confirmed program breaks and timing with the technical director of the studio.

Robert Spitz, master of ceremonies; Mr. Luther Biel, engineer.

Appealing music for the weekly shows was carefully chosen by Lois Farber, mistress of ceremonies.

Future Teachers of America

Sponsor—Mrs. Louise E. Driesbach

Because of the large enrollment of upperclassmen this year, the membership of the Future Teachers of America was restricted to juniors and seniors

During the monthly meetings, outstanding speakers featured inspirational talks in such fields as teaching the blind, psychology, physical education, and library services.

Among the other activities were a field trip to Muhlenberg College on March 3, 1967, student visitations to local elementary and secondary schools on April 19, 1967, and the sponsorship of the Faculty Appreciation Tea on April 26, 1967.

During the first meeting of Future Teachers of America Club, Eloise Strunk, the secretary, registered new club members.

Seated—Eloise Strunk; Standing—Karen Kochan, Miriam Peckman, Michael Taddio, William Keeler, Victoria Sanders.

At another meeting, Mrs. Louise E. Dreisbach, sponsor of F.T.A., introduced Dr. Nicholas G. Stevens, Head of the Library Department of Kutztown State College, who later spoke about the opportunities and rewards of a library career.

Karen Houck, vice president; Deborah Lubas, treasurer; Patricia Wilson, president; Eloise Strunk, secretary; Mrs. Louise E. Dreisbach, sponsor; Dr. Nicholas G. Stevens, speaker and Head of the Library Department of Kutztown State College.

In observance of Teaching Career Month, the Future Teachers of America chapter of the Castle prepared an attractive display in the show case in the high school lobby.

Kneeling—Deborah Lubas, Patricia Wilson; Standing—Cynthia Yeich, Karen Houck, Mrs. Louise E. Dreisbach, sponsor

Future Business Leaders of America

Sponsor—Miss Edith R. Fairlamb

Through regular meetings and special activities including projects, tours, and conventions, members of the Future Business Leaders of America organization gained valuable commercial backgrounds and skills needed to fill business demands.

Programs at the Caum Home and the Widows' Home, Christmas caroling at the Community General Hospital, and preparing Thanksgiving baskets for the Community Nurses Organization were a few of the many service projects sponsored by this organization.

To gain first hand experience of the operation of real business firms, visits were made to the U.G.I., Fair's Bakery, the Reading Trust, the American Bank, the American Continental Insurance Company, and the D. J. Potter Company.

Members of the club also participated and won numerous awards in the regional, the state, and the national F.B.L.A. conventions.

Officers of F.B.L.A. proudly display the state plaque which the local chapter won for the fourth consecutive year for being the best chapter in the state.

Seated — Gail Trump, president; Standing — Marjorie Mundell, secretary; Sandra Hooyman, vice-president; Robin Geissler, treasurer; Donna Berger, reporter

As a special service project during the Thanksgiving season, talented members of F.B.L.A. sang and played for the enjoyment of the women at the Caum Home.

Brynette Piontek, Jean Kline, Marjorie Mundell, Suzanne Izzo, Janifer Rentz, Sandra Rohrbach

On January 27, 1967, this organization also sponsored the annual fashion show to raise money for the Heart Fund.

Girls' Athletic Association

Sponsors—Mrs. Rita L. Burkey
Mrs. Janet B. Gorman
Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman

By sponsoring nine intramural sports, namely softball, soccer, archery, basketball, volley ball, tennis, bowling, badminton and table tennis, the Girls' Athletic Association endeavored to fulfill its motto "A Sport for Every Girl and a Girl in Every Sport."

Membership in this organization also gave the sports-minded girls opportunities to take part in a variety of special projects such as the County Play day held on October 28, 1966 and the Junior High Play day held on March 31, 1967.

On the basis of points earned through participation and achievement in the organization's total program, girls could earn chenille letters, pins, and pin guards.

Near the end of the school term, the sponsors of the Girls Athletic Association reviewed the individual point records of the students in order to determine the number of awards to be given for each category.

Seated—Mrs. Rita L. Burkey; Standing—Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman; Absent—Mrs. Janet B. Gorman

Table tennis was one of the popular sports offered to the girls under the G.A.A. intramural program.

Robin Tiehl, Louise Vogel, Joan Spencer,
Lynn Hummel, Vida Millek, Patricia Southworth

Deborah Long, one of the nine members of the advanced physical education class and also a member of the G.A.A., served as a student instructor for a beginner's group in archery.

United Nations Club

Sponsor—Mrs. Jess F. Cwiklinski

Highlighting the club's projects for the year was the co-sponsorship of the Foreign Affairs Council Luncheon on October 20, 1966, where Miss Lisa Segivio, world wide traveler, was the featured speaker.

Other club activities included a field trip to the United Nations in New York City on October 21, 1966, participation in the Model U. N. Conference at Albright College on December 10, 1966, and the East Coast Model U. N. Conference at State College, Pennsylvania, on April 21, 22, and 23, 1967.

In addition, the club received an invitation to send a delegation to the National U. N. Conclave at Georgetown University.

New members registered at the first United Nations Club meeting.

Seated—Candice Ramsay, secretary; Standing—Dee Stelmach, Susan Brubaker, Christian Seidel, Bonita Klaptosky.

After the program at the Foreign Affairs Council luncheon at the Abraham Lincoln Hotel, members of the club gathered to chat briefly with Miss Lisa Segivio, the guest speaker.

Jane Heckman, Cynthia Bloom, Richard Brown, Robert Yarnell, Miss Lisa Segivio, the guest speaker; Quentin Englehart, Dee Stelmach, Brandie Fitterling.

Officers of the club and the activity queen candidate scan the United Nations Club scrapbook to review the year's achievements.

Editorial and Business Adviser—Mr. Bertolet M. Bossler

Reading High School's chronicle which gives a complete pictorial and written review of Castle activities for the year is the Arxalma.

Major duties of the new editorial yearbook staff will be to schedule pictures and write interesting material for the 1968 edition of the publication.

For the most part, members of the art staff will have the tasks of designing the cover, preparing attractive page layouts, and pasting pictures and copy on special forms for the printer.

Initial work on the 1968 issue began in January of 1967 with the selection of the new staffs.

Preliminary orientation of yearbook work was given to a group of new staff members by Mr. Bertolet M. Bossler, editorial and business adviser.

Sandra Sparks, Marsha Epler, Brenda Shollenberger, Mr. Bertolet M. Near the end of the school term, Brynette Piontek, editor-in-chief of the 1967 Arxalma, explained the importance of the various charts used throughout the year by the editorial staff.

Seated—Deborah Young, Brynette Piontek, editor-in-chief of the 1967 Arxalma, Margaret Baer; Standing—Rosemarie Witman, Sandra Baer, Cynthia White, Robin Marlowe, John Shutt; Absent—Kay Cond Rath, Theresa Drexel, Nancy Ettaro, Diana Flood, Sharon Hensley, Donna Kauffman, Susan Killinger, Barbara Koumaras, Diann Kowalewski, Sherry Lutz

During a special meeting, Miss Kathleen L. Reilly, art adviser, outlined her staff's work for the 1968 edition of the Arxalma.

Library Staff

Head Librarian—Mrs. Pauline S. Obold

Assistant Librarian—Mrs. Jean K. Hanley

Library Secretary—Miss Michelle Holland

In the comprehensive library science program, staff members had the opportunity to gain valuable training and experience for future library careers, and for numerous positions in related fields.

Highlighting the organization's activities this year was the field trip to the Pennsylvania Teen-Age Library Association Convention held at Conrad Weiser High School on Wednesday, October 12, 1966.

Weekly announcements of staff assignments were of great interest to the staff members.

Seated—Linda Lehr, Sandra Garman, Dolores Asberry, Ann Marie Constantino; Standing—Virginia Gerhard, Carol George, Jean Hyne-man, Bonita Selig; Absent—Joanne Borrell, Terry Breedy, Judy Higo, Diana Houser.

Shelving books was a daily routine for the junior librarians.

Cathy Saylor, Rita Swiderski.

Members of the staff kept the periodicals up-to-date for use by students and teachers.

Carol George.

In the library workroom, student librarians performed countless tasks to prepare books for circulation.

Kathleen Coller, Rita Swiderski, Cathy Saylor, Mary Ignatosky; Absent—Carmella Scaffidi, Sherwood Wil-lig, Karen Keehn, Nancy Roth.

Workshop Players

Sponsor—Miss Christine Mavreles

Active participation in the extra-curricular programs provided by Workshop Players enabled students to gain valuable knowledge and experience in the various phases of the theatrical arts.

For many of the monthly meetings, lectures by talented local thespians were given, and informative films were shown.

Other activities of the organization included field trips to the dramatic productions given by the Community Players, Reading Civic Opera, and the Domino Players of Albright College.

With the aid of Joanne Borrell, a student model, Mrs. Malcolm Meyer of the Green Hills Theater showed the Workshop Players the art and technique of applying facial make-up.

Seated—Joanne Borrell; Standing—Linda Preskell, Eileen Powell, Emily Fioravanti, Rhonda Stock, Cheryl Destasio, Mrs. Malcolm Meyer, representative from the Green Hills theatrical group

Through vivid description and simple demonstration, Mrs. Robert Bruce McLean, director of the Reading Community Players, stimulated the theatrical interest of the membership.

Clockwise—Evelyn Johnson, Charlene Bowers, Linda Jankowiak, Jeanette Ciabattini, Susan Motze, Elisabeth Kalbach, Joan Skuczas; Standing—Mrs. Robert Bruce McLean, director of Reading Community Players

After the program of the regular monthly meeting of October 27, 1966, the members enjoyed a social gathering in the teachers' cafeteria.

Holly Dreibelbis, Kathryn Wagner, Ronnie Welker, Sally Bishop

Assembly Chairmen

Sponsor—Miss Mary A. Capallo

Continuity for each assembly program was provided by members of a group known as assembly chairmen.

By using the public address system, personnel of this group also led the morning exercises for seventy-five homerooms.

At the beginning of the year, members of the group gathered briefly to receive general instructions from their sponsor.

Seated—Terry Roth, Karen Shaffer, Melanie Evans, Janet Fies, Mae Deeds, Marjorie Mundell; Standing—Miss Mary A. Cappallo, sponsor; Lois Farber, David Weidner, Rhonda Stock, Jeffrey Rhein, Karen Houck, James Kendig, Cynthia Yeich, Charles Tannery

Assembly Organists

Sponsor—Mr. Theodore C. Walker

During the year, two Castle organists provided the professional, recessional, and enjoyable interlude music for school assemblies, evening lectures, and other related activities held in the auditorium.

With the aid of Mr. Theodore C. Walker, sponsor, the school organists selected appropriate music as needed.

Standing—Mr. Theodore C. Walker; Seated—Margaret Stoner, Susan [unclear]

Stage Hands

Supervisor of Electric Crew—Mr. Richard I. Boyer
Supervisor of Wood Crew—Mr. Robert K. Hahn

Combined efforts of the electric crew and the wood crew made it possible to have the proper stage environment according to the nature of each program.

Well-trained members of the electric crew provided the necessary lighting effects for the assembly programs.

Dean Fichthorn, William Conrad, David Fix

One of the major projects for the wood crew was to prepare the stage settings for the senior class show.

Standing—Robert Huber, Ronald Naugle, Eugene Frymoyer, Donald Dissinger; Kneeling—Michael Pfeifer

Receptionists

Sponsor—Mr. Clinton D. Getz

When parents, friends, or other visitors entered the main lobby of the Castle, they were always cordially greeted, then helped to their destinations by a courteous student receptionist.

Throughout each school day, a member of this group was also on hand in Room 124 as a receptionist for the Guidance Department.

Girls of this group consisted of volunteers who surrendered one or more study periods weekly to give this specific service to the school.

Faithful services rendered by the student receptionists during the year contributed much to the success of the school's total public relations program.

Seated—Nancy Himmelberger, Dorrie Zanino, Sandra Baer; Standing—Kathy Angstadt, Margaret Rehr, Mary Desjardins, Bernette Ulrich, Cathy Hemmig, Brynette Piontek.

Seated—Mae Deeds, Geraldine Weitzel, Carol Longenecker; Standing—Audrey Yankowsky, Catherine Focht, Shirley S'Choiniere, Loraine I Camillo, Rhonda Stock, Josephine Spinella; Absent—Mary Ann Pierce.

Seated—Angel Kraras, Miriam Peckman, Barbara Eyrich, Charlene Bowers; Standing—Linda Bieber, Cynthia Yeich, Catherine Draper, Sharon Seker, Joanne Borrell; Absent—Margaret Leh.

Office Messengers

Office Supervisor—
Mrs. Kathryn D. Shell

Chief duties of the office messengers were to collect absentee slips from the seventy-five homerooms in the morning, and to gather the daily absentee reports from all the teachers at the close of the school day.

Throughout the year the messengers also helped the general office staff by rendering assistance in large scale collating projects, and by performing minor clerical tasks such as sorting mail, counting a variety of forms to be sent to homerooms, and occasionally delivering small packages of time value to the proper destinations.

Awards Committee

Chairman—Mr. William H. Clouser

Tasks of this committee were to assign, and when necessary, revise the point values for student service in certain non-athletic activities.

Later, this group determined the point standard for awarding the chenile service seal.

One per cent of the students of the senior class who received the highest number of cumulative service points were awarded the special service award—the gold "R".

Recipients of the gold "R's" at the annual awards assembly were Lois Farber, Michael Davis, Geraldine Kindlik, Sarah Jane Kennedy, Karen Houck, Charles Tannery, David Weidner, Dean Fichthorn

At one of the meetings, Bonnie Piccone suggested a new activity to be considered for service point ratings.

Seated—Bonnie Piccone, Mr. William H. Clouser, chairman; Mr. Bernard Kaplan, Standing—Mr. Richard K. Scaife, Charles Tannery, David Weidner; Absent—Karen Shaffer, Mrs. Mabel J. Davis, secretary

Assembly Committee

Chairman—Mrs. Betty O. Hand

Arranging the schedule for the Castle's routine and special assemblies constituted the basic duty of this committee.

Newly-added to the schedule this year was the World Series Baseball Forum and the NASA space assembly. In addition, the committee also recommended that entrance and exit music be played by both the organist as well as the instrumental groups.

In September, committee members submitted ideas for new programs during the ensuing year.

Seated—Mr. William H. Clouser, Mr. James T. Reedy, Miss Carol L. Fegley, Miss Mary A. Capallo, Mrs. Betty O. Hand, chairman; Standing—Cynthia Yeich, Lois Farber, Mae Deeds, Jeffrey Rhein, Mr. Richard I. Boyer, Mr. Theodore C. Walker; Absent—Miss Patricia C. Sands, secretary; Mrs. Palma Reynolds; Miss Christine Mavreles; Mr. Hiram D. Hoch.

Health and Safety Committee

Chairman—Mr. George A. Pappas

Chief duties of this student-faculty committee were to check general health and safety conditions at the Castle throughout the year.

When necessary, this group submitted recommendations to the school administrators for further consideration and approval.

Suggestions this year included requests to have rubber mats placed in the lobby and at the foot of the stairs in inclement weather, and to conduct a campaign stressing more nutritional eating habits among students.

Early in the school term, a list of topics was prepared for later discussion.

Seated—Mr. George A. Pappas, chairman; Mrs. Julia F. Sabol, secretary; Mrs. Rita P. Burkey, Mrs. Maxine Ernesto, R.N.; Standing—Lindy Houck, Mr. Harrison H. Stump, Joan Goodwin, Charles Jones, Concetta Canfora, Patricia Wilson

Exhibits Committee

Sponsor—Mr. J. Norman Taylor

Eye-catching and informative displays in the two exhibit cases located in the main lobby were scheduled through the efforts of the student-faculty group known as the Exhibits Committee.

Throughout the year school clubs, organizations, and instructional departments utilized the showcases to call the attention of students and visitors to any outstanding school activities and projects.

Early in the school year, Mr. J. Norman Taylor, chairman, showed his committee the showcase material and props available to the exhibitors.

Kneeling—Rosemary Sottosanti, Dee Stelmach, Dorrie Zanino; Standing—Mrs. Barbara Spatz, Mr. J. Norman Taylor, chairman; Angel Kraras, Mr. Bertolet M. Bossler, Vicki Sanders, Mr. Edwin R. Madenford; Absent—Miss Kathleen L. Reilly.

Alumni Service Club

Sponsor—Miss Edith R. Fairlamb

As in previous years, the members of this committee were chosen from the Future Business Leaders of America organization.

Two of the club's major projects were to keep a school scrapbook for Mr. Roland P. Kyle, the Reading High School principal; and to assist the R.H.S. Alumni Association with homecoming events and class reunions.

In addition, to help publicize the centennial celebration of the Reading High School Alumni Association this year, the club erected special displays in the exhibit cases in the lobby.

After scanning various commercial publications, the members of the club selected, classified, then cut out related items for the scrapbook.

Standing—Cynthia Galt, Candice Rissmiller, Lynn Reed, Gail Trump; Seated—Daphyn Rapp

Hall Patrol

Director—Mr. William H. Clouser

Ten student volunteers, including eight seniors and two juniors, constituted the original Hall Patrol squad this past year.

Each day during one of the four lunch periods, two of the aforementioned monitors served on forty-five minute shifts outside of the main entrances of the students' cafeteria.

At mid-term, the patrol was expanded to include thirty-two students. Members of this group were stationed at various stairwells throughout the building in order to check student traffic during the lunch period.

During a period of orientation, Mr. William H. Clouser, the director, explained the school's lunchtime policies as related to the responsibilities of hall patrol members.

Seated—Deborah Long, Mary Spangler, Vicki DiBlasi, Isabel Barrios; Standing—Mr. William H. Clouser, director; Ronald Williams, Cynthia Bloom, Susan Eshenaur, Donna Nowatarski, Eileen Richards; Absent—Donna Ketner

Student Council

Sponsor—Mr. Clinton D. Getz

Basically, this council of seventeen members served as a representative group for the student body in matters pertaining to student and school welfare.

In addition to submitting items of special importance to the school administrators for further consideration and approval, members of this organization sponsored a number of projects throughout the year.

Highlighting the organization's activities were the promotion of two dances, namely the Castle Mixer and the Bonfire Blast, the preparation of the student handbook, and the sponsorship of tours through Reading High School for the benefit of new students.

At one of its meetings, Mr. James A. Achenbach, teacher, seeks the council's approval for the formation of a Debating Club.

Security Council

Sponsor—Mr. William C. Horine

Matters related to civilian defense at Reading High School were handled by the organization known as the Security Council.

Personnel consisted of sixteen squads of volunteer students supervised by members of the Reading High faculty. Training was given to the students by the teachers in charge.

Among the special Civil Defense supplies received from the federal government over the years were air-raid sirens, five medical kits, four hundred and eleven boxes of crackers, and three hundred and twelve water barrels, plus twenty-eight sanitation kits and one geiger counter.

Before the annual student council elections, Mr. Clinton D. Getz, sponsor, shows a student the proper method of operating a modern voting machine.

Cynthia Johnson, Mr. Clinton D. Getz, sponsor

Students observed Mr. William C. Horine, vice-principal, and Irwin B. Wealand, assistant custodian, as a periodic check is made of emergency water supply in the school.

R. H. S. Alumni Association

1867—Centennial—1967

President—Mr. Ralph W. Kinsey

Unique activities planned for this special year were a Faculty Night program March 29, 1967, the association's Annual Dinner at the Crystal on April 26, 1967, and a pageant depicting the hundred years of the alumni at the Alumni Homecoming in the fall.

According to the records, the association was founded on October 21, 1867, and incorporated in 1894, and is believed to be the oldest alumni association in the state.

Worthy of note is the fact that annually the association offers two annual five hundred dollar scholarships to members of the senior class.

Four Reading High School graduates and previous winners in the Robert S. Birch Memorial Speaking Contests served as judges for the tenth anniversary of this event which was held on Thursday, February 23 1967, in the music room of Reading High School

Mr. Jose Sanchez of Binghamton, New York, first place winner—1962; Dr. Ellis Friedman, Reading Hospital, Reading, Pennsylvania, first place—1959; Miss Doris Persky, Kutztown, Pennsylvania, first place—1965; Mr. Clifford B. La Page Jr., second place—1962

After outlining the proposed plans for the association's centennial year to the alumni members at the meeting of the R.H.S. Alumni on March 15, 1966, Mr. Ralph W. Kinsey, association president, introduced Mr. Roland P. Kyle, principal of Reading High School, who in turn explained the high school's part in the program.

Seated—Members of the alumni; Standing—Mr. Roland P. Kyle, principal of Reading High School; Mr. Ralph W. Kinsey, president of the Alumni Association.

During the Alumni Homecoming Program held at the Castle on November 7, 1966, Mrs. Mabel McClellan was given the annual Alumni Award for being an outstanding alumna by J. Russell Snell, a member of the Centennial Committee.

Mr. Roland P. Kyle, principal of Reading High School; Mrs. Mabel McClellan, retired teacher of Reading Senior High School; Mr. J. Russell Snell, assistant treasurer and chairman of the Publicity Committee for the Reading Alumni Association

Cheerleaders

Sponsor—Miss Barbara J. Graeff

As always, Reading High School's energetic cheerleaders displayed great exuberance in promoting fan enthusiasm and school spirit at gridiron contests, basketball games, pep assemblies, and special rallies.

At the American Cheerleaders Association Camp held at Cedar Crest College in Allentown, Pennsylvania during the past summer vacation, the Castle's cheerleaders graduated with the second highest number of points in competition. Points were earned by participation in squad performance, the training unit talent night, the song fest, the skit night, and by achievement in mental and physical tests.

As in previous years, the cheerleaders took an active part in the annual bonfire rally held on November 23, 1966, the eve of the Reading High-Pottsville football classic.

A Cappella

Director—Mr. Theodore C. Walker

To qualify for membership in this choral organization, eleventh and twelfth grade students had to pass individual tests in sight reading of music, pitch control, dynamics and vocal intonation.

For the most part, this well-trained group featured oratorios and cantatas written by famous musicians, sacred and secular songs, and music from Broadway shows in their choral programs for the school and community.

During the year this choral unit performed as a separate group, and sometimes with other choral organizations.

A Cappella

Director—Mr. Theodore C. Walker

In addition to performing for their fellow students in the school's Easter assembly, the A Cappella Choir gave delightful choral presentations at Northwest Junior High School, for the Reading Standard Night School Alumni Association, at a Kiwanis Club luncheon, and for the Easter Dawn Service at the tower atop Mount Penn.

On January 24, 1967, the choir acted as host to the Lycoming College Choir who was featured in the day's assembly program.

As in previous years, the choir also sang for the Evening of Music, the baccalaureate services, and the commencement exercises.

Girls' Chorus

Director—Mr. Theodore C. Walker

This elective and the Girls' Ensemble were the only two-period per week choral courses offered to vocalists this year.

Generally speaking, members of this chorus learned to sing trio music which featured first soprano, second soprano, and alto harmony.

For the most part, vocalists of this organization served as a supporting unit in musical performances which were given by the combined choral groups of the music department. In this capacity, the groups participated in the Thirty-Fifth Annual Evening of Music on Wednesday, May 3, 1967.

Girls' Ensemble

Director—Mr. Theodore C. Walker

Of the four choral electives the membership in the Girls' Ensemble was the smallest. As for the Girls' Chorus, vocalists in this group met twice a week and received one-third of a credit.

This ensemble gave its major performances as one of the supporting units of the combined choruses which performed in the Thirty-Fifth Annual Evening of Music.

Girls' Glee Club

Director—Mr. Theodore C. Walker

Originally this group consisted of the same number of vocalists as Girls' Chorus, namely thirty-nine girls.

Other than A Cappella Choir, this course was the only five period per week choral elective available to female vocalists this year.

At the Thirty-Fifth Annual Evening of Music, May 3, 1967, this group made its only public appearance, and then in the capacity of one of the supporting units in the combined chorus.

Brass Choir

Director—Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

This organization was formed for the specific purpose of providing unique music for special occasions.

During the Yuletide season, this instrumental combination serenaded city councilmen at City Hall, performed for Reading Eagle newsmen, and entertained students of Reading High School in a special Christmas assembly.

Talented musicians of this instrumental ensemble contributed much to the holiday spirit at Reading High School by playing captivating Yuletide music before and after the Christmas assembly.

Castleaires

Director—Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

Reading High School's award winning dance band gave nine major performances this year.

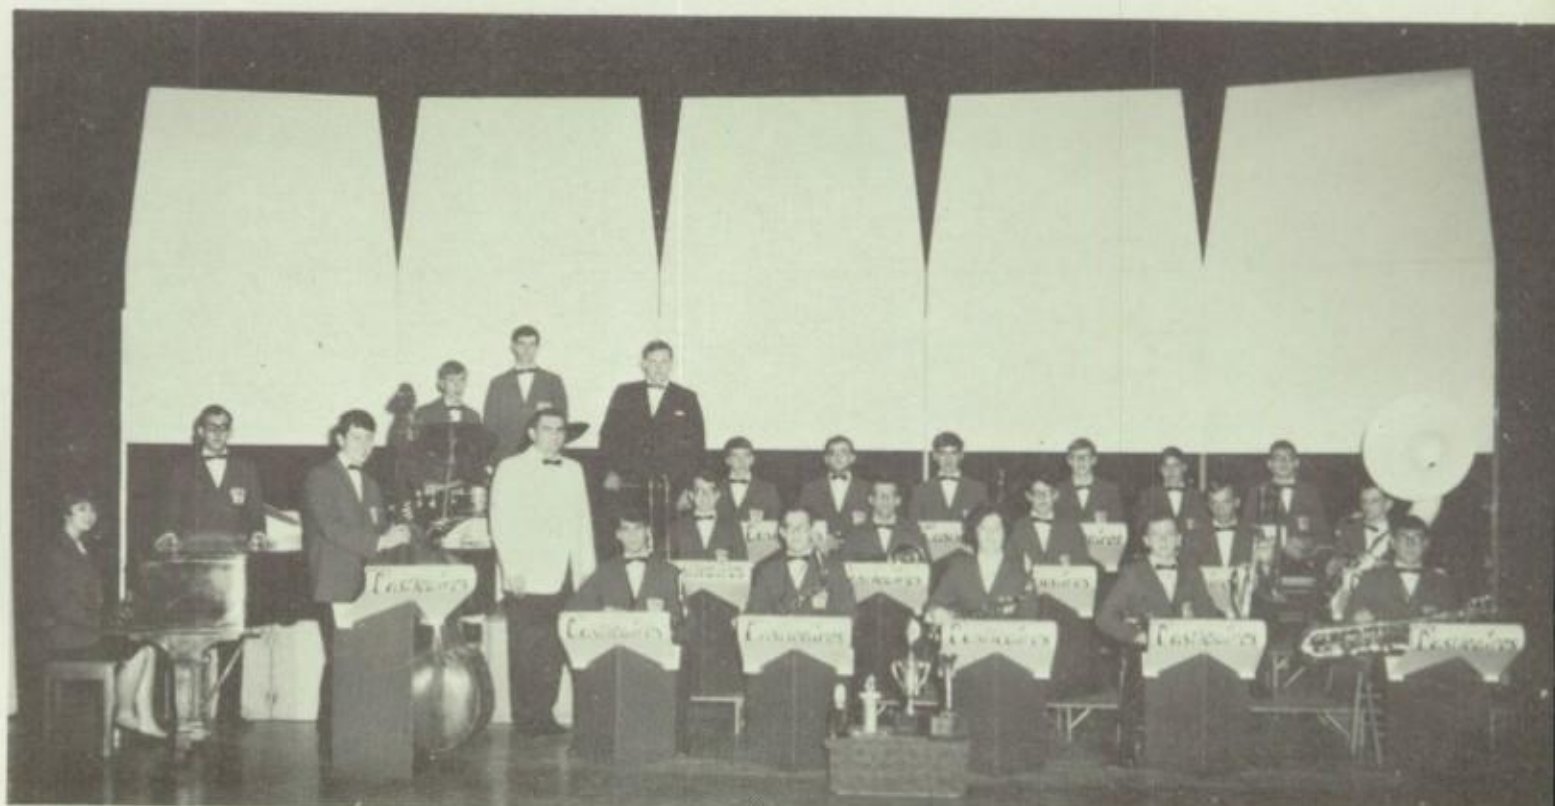

At the Castle, the versatile instrumentalists played at the Evening of Music, for the Bandaides, and for a special musical assembly. In addition, the group served as hosts for the Ninth Annual Stage Band Festival which was held on Saturday, April 15, 1967 in the high school auditorium.

Off-campus, the Castleaires presented delightful programs at Northeast Junior High School, and at the West Reading High School.

During the year the dance band also participated in three contests, namely at Pylesville, Maryland; Wilmington, Delaware; and Edgewood, Maryland. At Edgewood, the Castleaires earned a second place trophy.

Director—Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

On February 23 and 24, 1967, five students of the Concert Orchestra participated in the Eastern District Band at Boyertown, Pennsylvania. They were Shirley S'Choiniere, flute; Thomas Shade, French horn; and Sandra Rohrbach, Suzanne Izzo, and Janifer Rentz on clarinets. At the Regional Band conclave at Conrad Weiser High School on March 9, 10, and 11, 1967, Castle musicians were Shirley S'Choiniere, flute and piccolo; Thomas Shade, French horn; and Suzanne Izzo, clarinet.

Six members of this organization also represented the Castle in the annual Eastern District Orchestra which was held in Lehigh, Pennsylvania, on March 16, 17, and 18, 1967. These students were Thomas Shade, French Horn; Sharon Labe and Janifer Rentz on cellos, and Joyce Rohrbach, Sandra Marshman, and David Zissa on violins.

Instrument Ensembles

Director—Mr. Hiram D. Hoch

This year three special instrumental ensembles were formed to give promising young musicians practical means for mastering the fundamentals of intonation, instrumental blending, and precision playing.

Training and practical experience in ensemble work throughout the year enabled members of the respective groups to acquire countless skills and techniques necessary for participation in larger band and orchestral combinations.

Castle Court Jesters

Sponsor—Mr. Charles W. Anderson

Two outstanding activities sponsored by this group were the annual "Movies, Dancing, Refreshments" night, held on February 25, 1967, and the Inter-Club dance held on October 4, 1966 in the Reading High School gym.

As a means of stimulating school spirit, officers of the club encouraged the student body to publicize the Castle with item purchased from other school organizations.

Linda Hoffman, vice-president; Mr. Charles W. Anderson, sponsor; Bonnie Piccone, president; Audrey Rentschler, treasurer; Miriam Peckman, secretary.

Serve Our School

Sponsor—Miss Anna V. Wheeler

One of the special projects of the club was to assemble and sell bows of school colors to be worn for sports events.

Ruth Heffleger, treasurer; Connie Longenecker, vice-president; Carol Longenecker, president; Deborah Lubas, secretary

Fellowship Club

Sponsors—Miss Sara Sharadin
Mrs. Elizabeth Goodwin

Highlighting the activities of the club was the promotion of Brotherhood Week, February 13-17, 1967.

Bundle Days were held from December 4-9, 1966, at which time articles of clothing were collected for donation to poverty stricken families in Appalachia.

Diane Flood, secretary; Alexis Johnson, president; Dorothy Johnson, treasurer; Luvena Potts, vice president

Debating Club

Sponsor—Mr. James A. Achenbach

Members participated in many victorious inter-club and inter-scholastic debates including a contest with Spring Ford High School.

Early in the year, Mr. James A. Achenbach outlined in detail the procedures club members were to follow for ensuing debates.

Future Scientists of America

Sponsor—Mr. W. Whalen Fenstermacher

Highlighting the special projects of the Reading High School Chapter of the Future Scientists of America was a field trip to the Metropolitan Edison Company in Reading, Pennsylvania on December 28, 1966.

Other activities of the club included participation in the Pennsylvania Junior Academy of Science conclave held this year at the Central Catholic High School in Reading, Pennsylvania on March 20-21, 1967.

Through various experiments, club members learned how to make effective use of a variety of the school's scientific equipment.

David Zizza, treasurer Rosa Marron, secretary; Harold Grieshaber, president; Mark Bookbinder, vice-president

Future Physicians of America

Sponsor—Mr. Clinton D. Getz

For some time, this club has had the distinction of being the only chartered club of its kind in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

It was chartered by the Berks County Medical Society and the Pennsylvania Medical Society.

Basically, the club was formed for students who were interested in medical careers, the high ideals of medical doctors, and the art and science of medicine.

Activities planned for the year included a tour of a local hospital, and the possibility of viewing an operation.

Officers of the club met frequently to plan possible topics for group discussion of the regular meetings.

Seated—Rosa Marron, president; Louise Esterly, secretary; Standing—Geraldine Kindlik, vice-president; Arthur Kaufold, treasurer

Future Nurses of America

Sponsor—Mrs. Maxine Ernesto, R.N.

Special activities of the club included the presentation of a Christmas program at the Hawthorne Home for the Aged, and a field trip to Philadelphia.

Featured as a special speaker at one of the meetings was Mary Lou Reimer, R.N., a former Peace Corps volunteer who served in Turkey.

As a special club project, members collected redeemable stamps for the benefit of the Retarded Children's Association.

Seated—Joan Goodwin, president; Virginia Jaromnak, vice-president; Pamela Treat, secretary; Terry Roth, treasurer; Standing—Louise Esterly, Lorrain Greenwald, Sharon Seker, Stephanie Seidel, Judy Rothenberger, Mrs. Maxine Ernesto, R.N.

French Club

Sponsor—Mrs. Betty O. Hand

Besides the annual Christmas caroling, the club viewed French films presented at Albright College on November 5, 1966, and a travelogue during a club meeting in February.

This year the French Club banquet was held at the Crystal Restaurant on April 26, 1967. Adding to the authentic atmosphere were can-can dancers, costumed waitresses, and dramatic interpretations of Cyrano De Bergerac. Following the dinner, the members enjoyed a dance.

Paul Kilpatrick, a Parisian exchange student from Exeter High School, presented a talk about his native country to the members of the club.

Terry Roth, treasurer; Rhonda Stock, president; Paul Kilpatrick, visiting exchange student and guest speaker; Catherine Draper, vice-president; Sarah Jane Kennedy, secretary

Russian Club

Sponsor—Miss Sara Sharadin

In addition to featuring speakers and discussions, the club arranged colorful displays in the cases in the lobby dealing with "Why Study Russian?", and "The World of Russian Culture".

On May 2, 1967, a banquet was held at the Crystal Restaurant where native dishes were served. After the meal, two members attired in typical garb provided traditional musical selections.

At one of the early meetings, Father Michael Barna, pastor of St. Christopher's Russian Orthodox Church, gave an enlightening lecture about his trip to the U.S.S.R.

Sarah Jane Kennedy, treasurer; Miss Sara Sharadin, sponsor; Miriam Peckman, secretary; Reverend Michael Barna, guest speaker; Cynthia Bloom, vice president; Geraldine Kindlik, president

In the opening game of the season, Bethlehem's Hurricanes came out ahead in an 18-7 contest at Liberty Stadium in Bethlehem. Michael Debiec scored the lone Reading touchdown on a six yard run while Lee Gilmore followed with the extra point.

Steelton-Highspire's Steamrollers handed the Red Knights their second defeat of the season and first in Central Penn competition. Lee Gilmore scored Reading's seven points on a half yard run followed with the conversion in the 34-7 campaign.

In a postponed contest with John Harris, the speedy Pioneers proved no match for the Castle gridmen. In making Reading High its eighteenth victim in a row, the Pioneers scored seven touchdowns while holding Reading scoreless in this 46-0 game.

An improved Red and Black eleven came out at the short end of a 28-13 campaign with the York Bearcats at Albright Stadium. Reading started fast as Lee Gilmore went fifty-three yards on the sixth play of the game to give the Knights a 6-0 lead. Later, Paul Renwick tallied on a four yard run to complete Reading's scoring.

At Williamsport, Reading's gridsters dropped the fifth consecutive game of the season. Williamsport's Millionaires defeated the winless Readingites by a 20-0 score.

During the home encounter with Lancaster, the emotions of the fans were touched in many ways. Before the game, Dr. Ralph C. Geigle, Superintendent of Reading Schools paid tribute to the late Manny Jacobs who served the Reading School District as its Athletic Director, and was associated with the Castle sports for the past forty years. On the lighter side, Miss Deborah Lubas, the 1966-67 Activity Queen, and her Court were presented to the fans during halftime. Climaxing the night's unique activities was another grid loss. This time the Lancaster squad reversed the Castlemen 34-13.

Reading outplayed Cedar Cliff in a bid for its first win of the year, but the Colts' fine passing helped to give the Knights another setback by a 27-18 score. Paulie Renwick scored two touchdowns while Virgil Brockington scored his first of the season as the Knights marked the first time to tally more than two touchdowns in any one game.

On November 1, 1966, Coach Sherwood Werner announced his resignation which became effective at the end of the 1966 football season. His decision was made after his teams registered eight straight losses in a two year span including seven this season, and an over-all record of fourteen wins and thirty-eight setbacks.

Reading's luck finally changed in a Central Penn game with William Penn. While breaking a seven game skid, the Red Knights put everything together in coming out ahead by a 24-14 margin. Stephen Randolph played standout football at defensive end and was honored by being selected "Lineman of the Week" by the Touchdown Club of Berks County.

Hopes for another grid victory faded when the Lebanon Cedars blanked Coach Werner's Castlemen 13-0 in a Central Penn game at Lebanon.

In the next encounter, Central Dauphin reversed the Knights by a 24-0 score. Central Dauphin's Rams revenged Reading's only conference win a year ago by scoring three touchdowns in the second half after holding a scant 6-0 lead.

Reading's Castle gridmen ended the worst season in football history by virtue of a 25-14 loss in the annual Thanksgiving Day battle with Pottsville. Coach Werner, in concluding his five years as the Knights' grid boss, saw Reading's Thomas Miller penetrate the Crimson Tide's line while scoring the Wernermen's two touchdowns. Miller's performance in the losing cause earned him the Touchdown Club's final Back of the Week Award for the 1966 football season.

For the fourth consecutive year, the Castle's junior gridmen opened their season with a victory over Phoenixville. This season the Red Knights registered a 6-0 win when Jeff Boston scored Reading's lone touchdown.

Lancaster Catholic, a new opponent, provided the next opposition. In this encounter, the Knights edged the Catholic eleven with a 7-6 tally. Martin Grant raced down the sidelines for an eighty-five yard score.

Governor Mifflin handed the Castlemen their first defeat as they reversed the Knights by a score of 14-7. Reading's lone touchdown was made by Jim Palmertree.

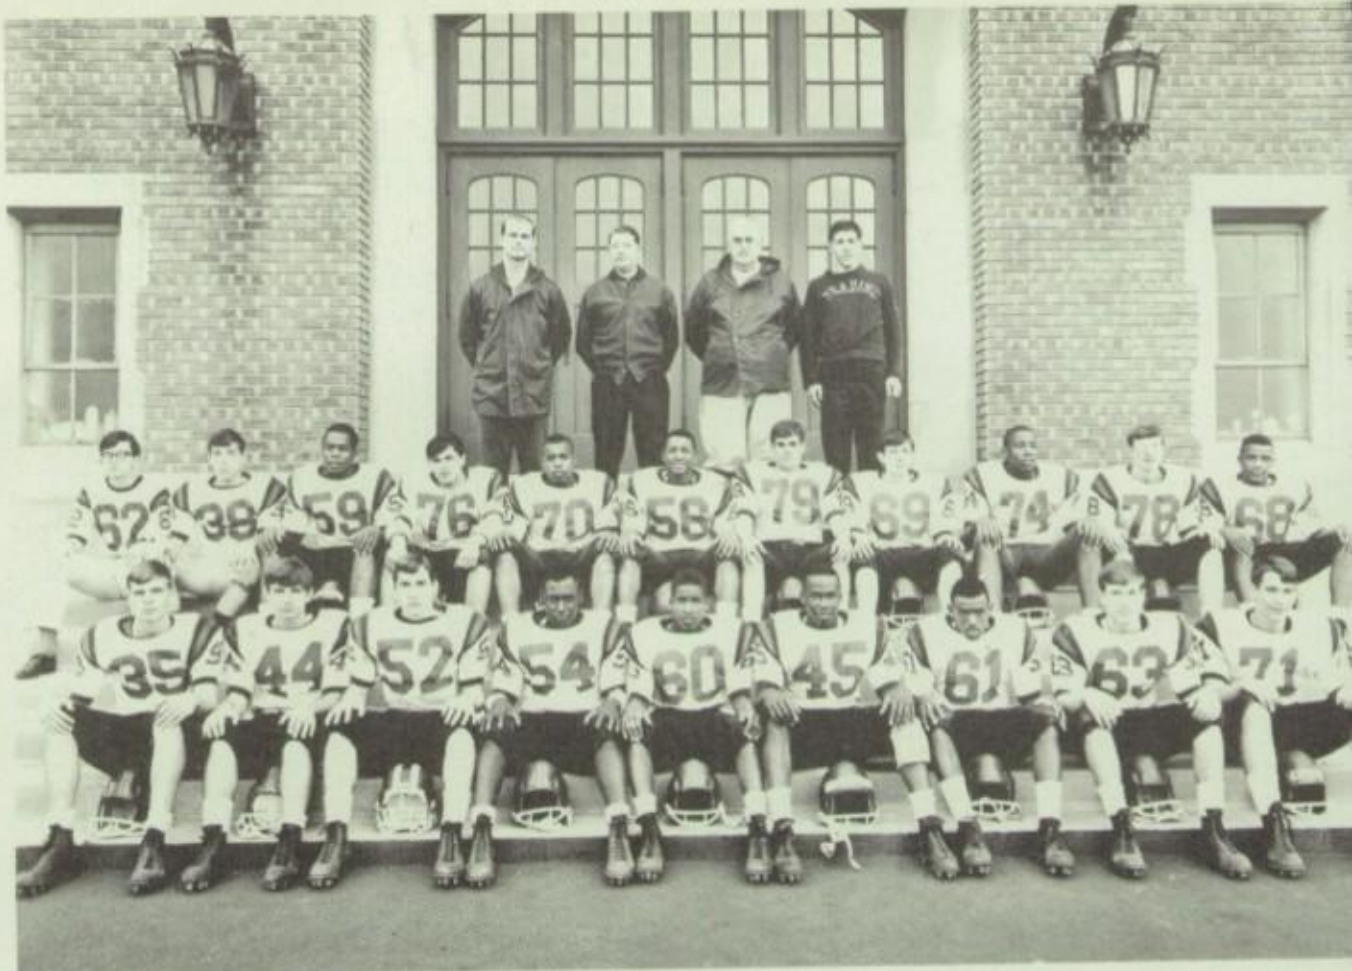

After a scoreless first half with Dieruff of Allentown, the Knights finally took the lead as a result of Jeff Boston's thirty-eight yard run for a touchdown. Victory hopes faded when, with three minutes remaining in the game, the visitors succeeded in reaching the goal line to tie the game 6-6.

Another tie game followed when the Lancaster gridmen and the Castlemen were unable to break a 12-12 deadlock. This marked the first time since 1939 that Reading High had two successive ties in one season.

In the game with Wilson the Knights suffered their greatest setback when the Bulldogs reversed the Castlemen 35-0.

During the first quarter of the Muhlenberg game, the Muhls tallied thirteen points. After this period the Knights scored two touchdowns in the second quarter, and one touchdown in each of the remaining two quarters to give the Castlemen a 24-13 win.

In the season's finale for both squads, the Lebanon gridmen edged the Knights 18-12.

On the opponent's field, the Reading booters opened the season with a victory over Wilson Jointure by a 2-0 score. Inclement weather forced the postponement of the next game with Norristown from September 22, 1966, to September 26, 1966. In the meantime, in spite of two extra periods, the Castlemen were unable to break a 2-2 deadlock with Mt. Penn. Reading's rescheduled encounter with Norristown ended in a 2-1 victory when the Red Knights registered their final goal in the fourth period of the contest.

Bethlehem's booters made Reading their twenty-ninth victory in a row by defeating the Red Knights 3-0. In a game originally scheduled for November 1, 1966, but moved up to October 3, 1966, the Reading and Lancaster booters fought to a 0-0 deadlock.

After this game, a change in coaches took place. Because of a personal injury, Coach James A. Erwin asked to be relieved of his coaching duties for the remainder of the season. Mr. Bruce Gehret, a former Reading High soccer coach, was named as mentor of the squad for the final eight games.

Wilson Boro was the victim of the red and black's third win of the season by a 2-0 score which was followed by their second defeat at the hands of Brandywine Heights by a 3-1 margin. Reading bounced back to defeat Elco, the Lebanon County champions, and Hamburg by 2-0 and 1-0 scores, respectively.

Fleetwood High edged the Knights 1-0 in an October 17, 1966 game that was originally scheduled for September 29, 1966, but postponed because of inclement weather. Reading's Knights next defeated Conrad Weiser 4-3 for their sixth victory.

In Reading's second meeting with Bethlehem, the Red Knights registered their most important soccer victory of the decade. Bethlehem came to town with a thirty-five game winning streak, in a row this season, and a nine year record of ninety-four wins, one loss, and no ties. This was the Knights' first win over the Hurricanes since 1956. Charles Messner and Michael Zerebiec joined in the contest to give the Knights a 2-0 victory.

Reading High ended its soccer season with a 2-1 victory over Twin Valley to end out their 1966 campaign.

Charles Messner led the Castlemen's spring with seven goals, followed by Michael Zerebiec with six goals and Michael Hallowell with four goals.

Cross Country

Coach—Mr. Carl E. Boltz

Consecutive triumphs over Redland, Lebanon and York by scores of 24-36, 24-33, and 21-41, respectively gave the Red Knights an impressive beginning for the championship score in the Central Penn Conference League.

Camp Hill, with a 17-38 victory over the Red Knights and their fifth straight win for the season, turned the tide. Squads from John Harris and Central Dauphin also gave the Castlemen setbacks by scores of 15-40 and 23-32.

Reading's harriers ended their streak of three consecutive losses by sporting a 23½-35½ win over the William Penn lads. Reading's Bob Eveland and Penn's Stan Stevens finished in a tie for first place in this meet which accounted for the unusual final score.

In the next meet with Cedar Cliff thinclads, the Knights failed to earn an individual first place, but succeeded in capturing the next eight places to win the meet 20-46.

Reading High School closed its cross country season by earning a 20-39 victory over Central Dauphin East.

With a final log of 6-3, the Castlemen finished in fourth place in Central Penn League competition.

In the All League Run held at Gettysburg College, as a team Reading placed fourth with a 134 point total.

At the District #3 Meet at the Venzke Golf Driving Range, the Reading squad placed seventh in a field of ten in team competition. Geoffrey Jones again led the Reading squad of eight by earning a thirty-fourth position in this meet.

No Reading runners were qualified to compete in the P. I. A. A. State Finals at University Park, Pennsylvania.

Reading High School's basketball team easily defeated the four non-conference opponents before running into tough competition in the Central Penn Conference Schedule.

In the first half of the conference warfare, the Castlemen won their first two games, but then lost the next three to York, Cedar Cliff, and William Penn, respectively. Outstanding in the remainder of first half action was the Knights' 48-46 upset victory over Central Dauphin who later went on to win the Central Penn title and District 3 crown.

Missbach's Marksmen managed only three wins in the second half as they ended the season in a fifth place tie with John Harris and Cedar Cliff. Unexpected in the second half of the season was Lancaster's surprise victory whereby the Tornadoes shattered a twenty-one year Reading High jinx by dropping the Knights 34-31 for the first time in forty-three consecutive clashes.

Paul Renwick and Wellington Cleaver wound up sharing scoring honors at the end of the Reading High basketball season. Renwick led in individual average with 14.5 points per game and Cleaver led in total scoring with 302 points.

Reading's overall record was twelve wins and ten losses compared to eight wins and ten losses in league competition.

In the twenty contests he played this season, Paul Renwick led the team in most points tallied per game.

This year in non-league competition Reading's junior varsity basketballers posted a three win and one loss record by defeating Phoenixville, Norristown, and Central Catholic. Only William Allen reversed the Reading squad in pre-season action.

In the Central Penn Conference contests, Reading tied Central Dauphin East for fifth place with a nine win and nine loss record. Reading's junior varsity squad was behind York, John Harris, Central Dauphin, and William Penn. Last year the Knights earned a third place in the tough conference schedule.

In league competition this year, Reading lost to John Harris twice, York twice, and single encounters to Central Dauphin East, William Penn, Steelton, Central Dauphin, and Lebanon. Reading's junior varsity squad was victorious over Cedar Cliff twice, Lancaster twice, and one game each to Steelton, William Penn, Lebanon, Central Dauphin, and Central Dauphin East.

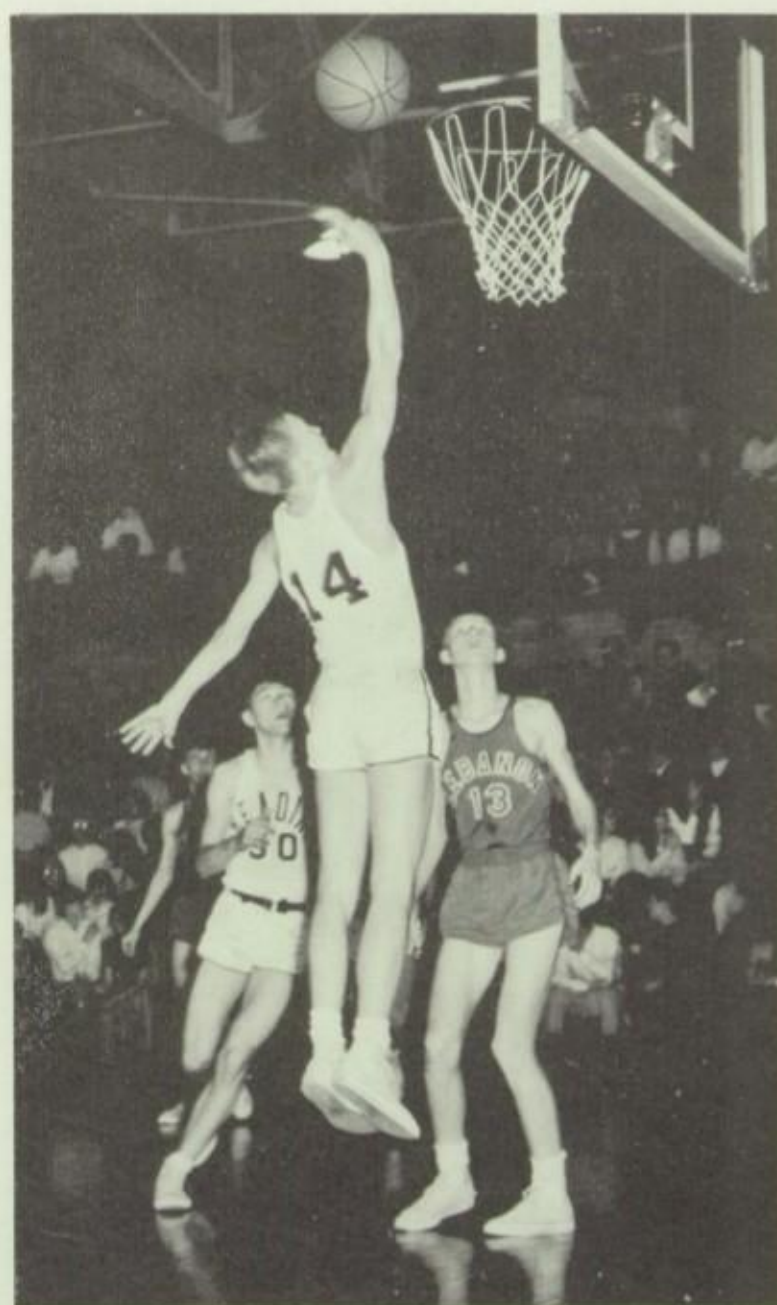

Top scorers on the Reading squad were John Shinkus with 286 points, Walker Wadsworth with a total of 198 points, and Tini Grant with 146 points.

Wrestling

Coaches—Mr. Jack C. Prutzman
Mr. George T. Benedick

Previous opponents not scheduled to meet the Red Knights this past season were squads from Governor Mifflin, Pottsville, and Penn Manor.

Five new teams which appeared on the wrestling scene for the Castle squad this year were Conrad Weiser, Muhlenberg Township, Coatesville, and Minersville. Readings' grapplers proved victorious over each new opponent with the exception of the contest with Manheim Township.

In the remaining eight encounters with the regularly scheduled squads, the Reading matmen succeeded in defeating only one team by edging the Spring Ford grapplers 24-22.

In the Conestoga Valley Invitational Tournament, the Red Knights finished fourth with 48 points.

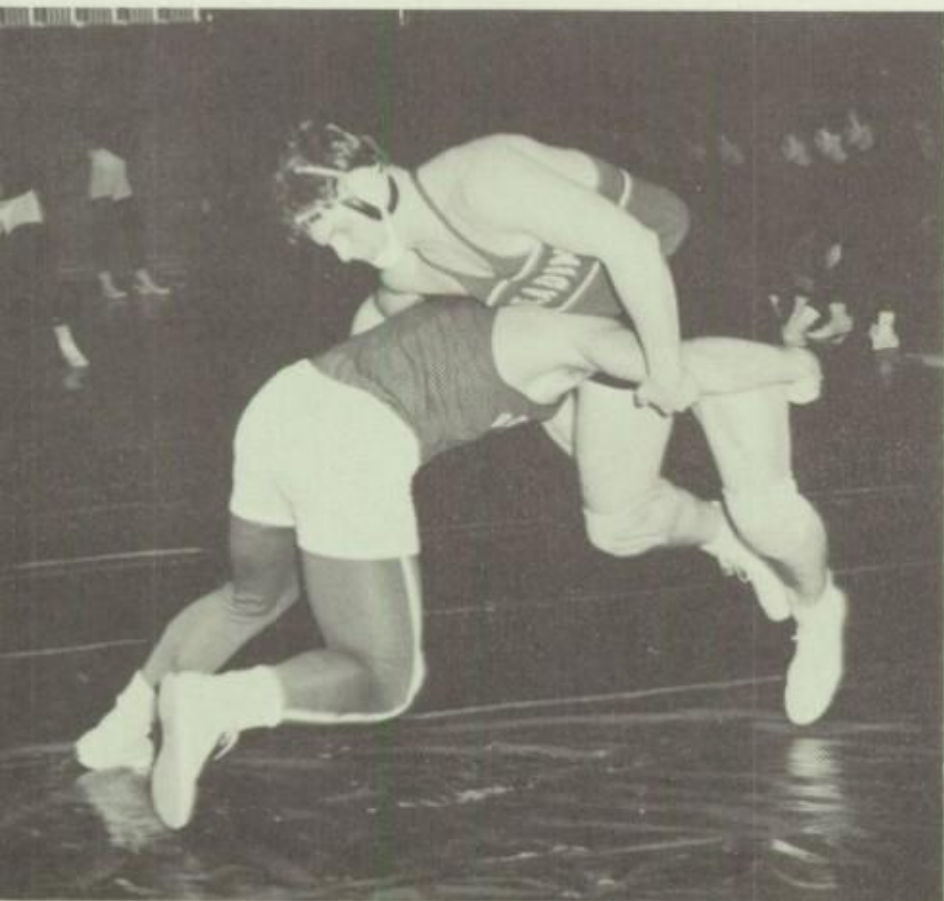

This year's Sectional Meet was held at Wilson High School. Winners for Reading were David Adams, 112; Bobby Crawl, 127; Jeffrey Tull, 133; and Scott Rebholz, heavyweight. Besides winning these four mat titles, the Castlemen also won the team crown in a field of twelve competing teams.

These same four wrestlers were then entered in the District 3 meet where they were all defeated. No Reading wrestlers were eligible for the Southeast Regional Meet or the state finals.

Veteran standouts on this year's wrestling team were Frank Civitarese, Francis Coleman, and co-captain David Adams.

During the regular season, the Reading swimmers succeeded in establishing five new school records. Beginning with the York meet at Reading, Larry Care set a new Reading High School record for the 60 yard free-style event in 29.4 seconds. In the dual meet against Governor Mifflin High School, Alphonse Sobotor set a new Reading High School record in the 200 yard free-style in 2:01.8 seconds. Sobotor also established a new Bethlehem High pool record in the 400 yard free-style with a time of 4:23.3 seconds. At Wilson Joint High School, Sobotor set a new Reading High School and Wilson High pool record in the 200 yard individual medley in 2:18.4 seconds. Larry Care also posted two new Wilson High pool records; namely, in the 50 yard free-style with the clocking of 23.5 seconds, and in the 100 yard back-stroke in 1:04.2 seconds.

In the District #3 Meet in which ten teams took part, the Castle mermen placed fourth. Individual honors in this meet were earned by Larry Care who placed a second in the 50 yard free-style event.

In the Southeast Regional Meet held at West Chester College, the mermen failed to win any first positions.

At the P.I.A.A. State Finals held at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, Larry Care earned a tie for ninth place.

Coach—Mr. Max A. Missbach

Hopes for an impressive season record appeared promising this year as a result of the nucleus of strength of Robert Meinig, a four year veteran; Richard Schildt, a three year veteran, and Herbert Hintz, a two year veteran.

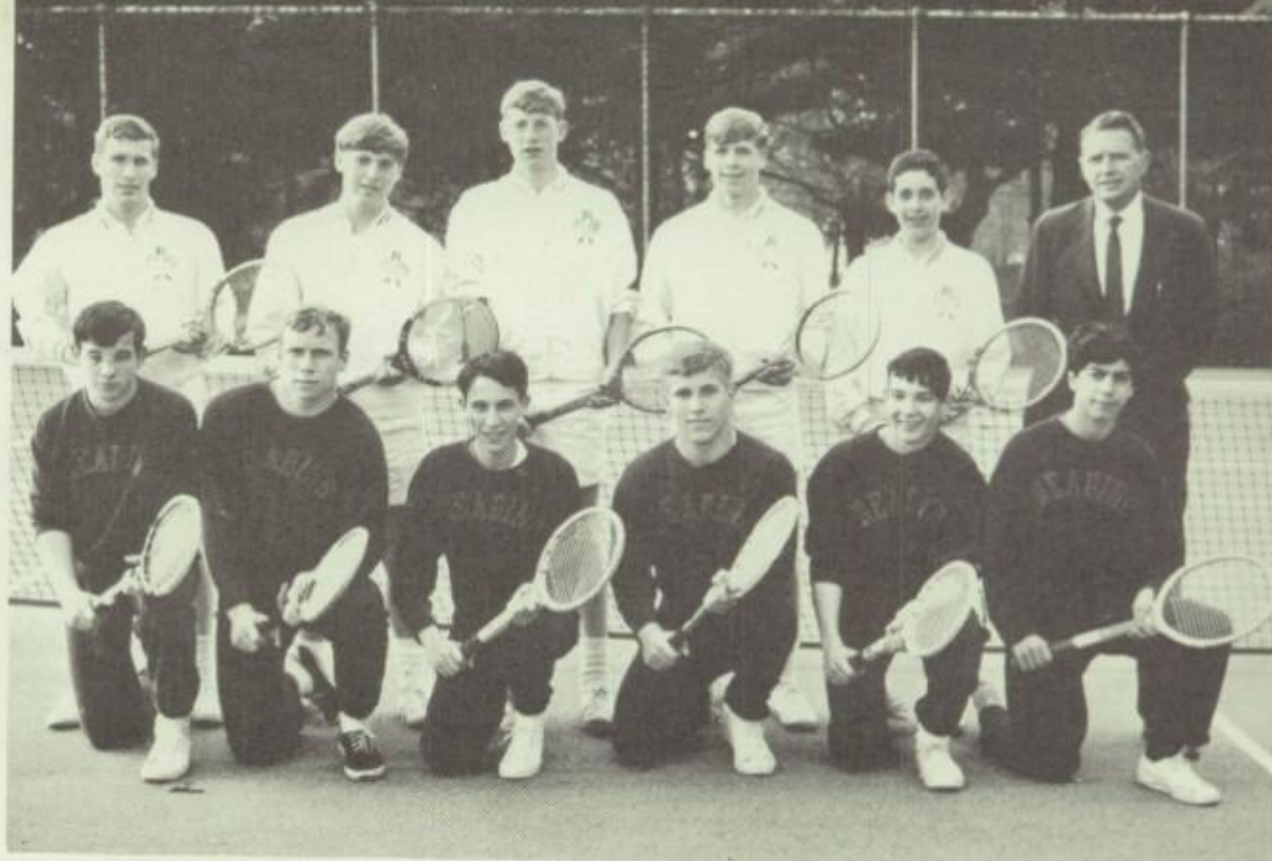

Last season Reading High School's netmen met each of the eight foes including the non-league squad from Wyomissing in a home and an away contest for a schedule of sixteen matches.

This year the schedule differed. Seven of last year's league opponents will play against the Knights only once except the non-league squad from Wyomissing which will play the Castlemen in a double encounter. New League foes this year will include single opposition with Parkland, Palmerton, and Phillipsburg. As a result, the schedule for the current season will be twelve team contests instead of the sixteen as was the case in the previous year.

Robert Meinig was slated to represent the Castlemen in the District 3 Finals.

Pre-season predictions show that the pitchers, the catcher, plus the shortstop will form the nucleus of power for Reading High's baseball team as it makes a bid to regain the East Penn League title which it lost by a narrow margin last season after a two-year reign. Another championship season would permanently retire the three year trophy in favor of the Red Knights.

Coach Charles Dunkelberger's starting pitchers this year will consist of juniors James Conroy and Donald Grim and senior Thomas Soliwoda. Reading moundmen will be pitching to John Weidenhammer behind the plate.

Reading's three bases will be defended by seniors Wellington Cleaver at the initial sack, Michael Debiec at second, and Richard Stanislaw at third base. Veteran Dave Kase, the East Penn League's outstanding shortstop for the past two years, will again display his defensive talents between second and third base.

Reading again is playing a seventeen game schedule, however this year's games against Bethlehem Catholic are part of league competition.

Coach—Mr. Carl E. Boltz

Central Dauphin East, the newest contender in the Eastern Division of the Central Penn Golf League, accounted for the two additional contests on the Red Knights' schedule. Not included in Reading's list of foes this year was the non-league match with Mt. Penn.

Of the ten members on the golf squad, six linksmen were veterans from last year's team. They were Richard Hubitsky, Bruce Niven, James Tandlemayer, Glenn Wallace, Thomas Grookett and Mark Lehr.

Seniors in the golf lineup were Richard Hubitsky, Bruce Niven, James Tandlemayer, Glenn Wallace. Juniors Thomas Grookett, Mark Lehr, and John Darlington gave additional strength to the team. Promising young talent for the squad lay in the capable hands of sophomores Jeffrey Palmer and Robert Stevenson.

Named to represent Reading High School in this year's Berks County High Tourney at Galen Hall were team standouts Richard Hubitsky, Glenn Wallace, and Bruce Niven.

Richard Hubitsky was slated to represent the Reading High golfers at the District #3 competition at Hershey, Pennsylvania.

In the district competition, the ten players who earn the lowest scores will be eligible to compete in the P.I.A.A. State Finals at University Park, Pennsylvania.

Auxiliary Sports Personnel

In the Castle's total athletic program, the members of this group rendered their respective services in support of the thirty-four regular physical education classes each week for boys and girls, for the four intramural sports for boys and nine for the girls, and for the thirteen interscholastic major and minor sports for boys.

Sadly missed is Mr. Emanuel Jacobs, Director of Physical Education for the Reading School District. Affectionately known to everybody as "Manny Jacobs", he passed away on Wednesday, October 19, 1966. Long will he be remembered in the hearts of everyone for his warm personality, untiring service, leadership, and devotion to duty.

GIRLS' SPORTS

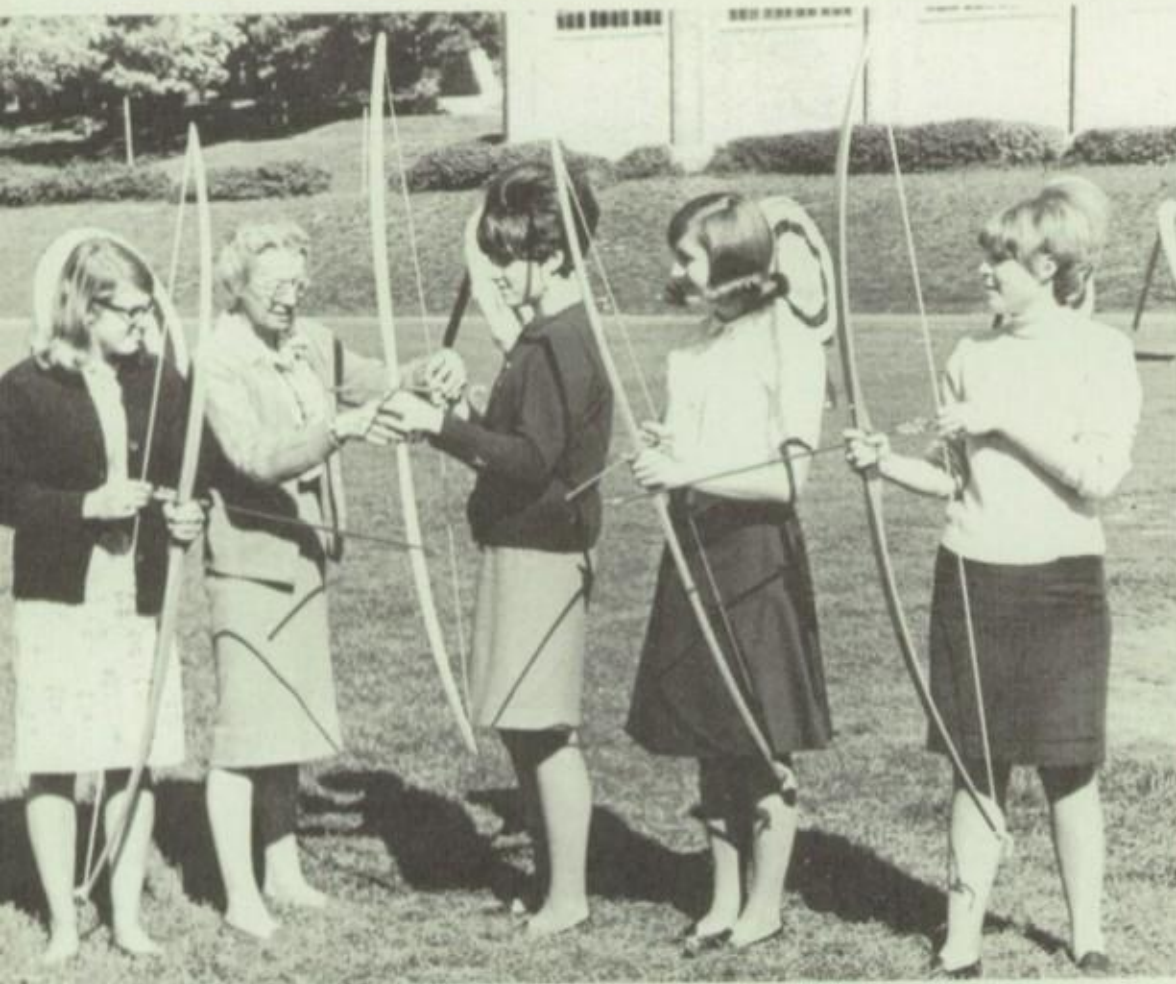

Archery

Sponsor—Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman

Rain made it necessary to cancel one week of archery activities. As a result, the seventy-three eager archers had to start their practice sessions and competition on September 19, 1966.

On Mondays and Wednesdays of the remaining three weeks of the archery season, the enthusiastic archers reported to the girls' athletic field for practice sessions and individual competition.

By scoring one hundred points, Janice Reppert of the twelfth grade won this year's title of "Queen Archer." With a total of ninety points, Johanna Larese of the twelfth grade earned runner-up honors.

Beginners in this sport always received basic instructions from Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman, the sponsor.

Softball

Sponsor—Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman

Registration for this sport was considerably lower this year than in previous years. As a result of the small turnout, only three teams were formed, namely the 007's, Roadrunners, and Slickers.

While two teams played a four-inning game, members of the third team served as officials, such as scorekeepers and base umpires.

After a series of three games each, the 007's succeeded in capturing championship honors with a perfect record of three wins and no losses.

Soccer

Sponsor—Mrs. Janet B. Gorman

Although the participants sometimes received minor bruises and bumps in this fun-filled sport of soccer, the girls enjoyed the fast-moving action and thrills of the sport.

Every Monday and Wednesday during the month of November, four teams, namely the Moochers, Sky-line Dwellers, "007's" and the Zeros took part in the lively soccer competition on the athletic field in front of the girls' gymnasium.

This year's winning team was the "007's" which won four and tied two games.

Sixty members of the Girls' Athletic Association registered for volleyball, the last winter intramural sport of the G.A.A. season. This number was less than last year.

From the list of enrollees, five teams were organized. They were the Renegades, Road-Runners, Falcons, 007's, and Team 5.

During each session of competition in the girls' gymnasium, two games were played simultaneously. Contests took place on Mondays and Wednesdays during the month of February.

On basis of round robin eliminations, this year's champion team was the 007's who won twelve out of sixteen games played

Bowling

Sponsor—Mrs. Rita P. Burkey

Enthusiasts of this sport noted two important changes in the bowling program this year. Because of the lack of pin boys for this girls' sport at the Reading Y.M.C.A. this year, the bowling activities for the Castle ladies were transferred to the Park Bowling Alleys where automatic pin-setters were available. In addition to the new site, the bowlers were supervised by a new sponsor, namely Mrs. Rita P. Burkey, who replaced Mrs. Sara Jane Orr who resigned at the end of the previous year.

In competition, La Donne Tothero of the tenth grade won championship honors. Runner-up position in the tournament was earned by Judy Pizzo of the eleventh grade.

At the start of the season, beginners received valuable instructions about the sport from Mrs. Rita P. Burkey, the new sponsor.

Badminton

Sponsor—Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman

Enrollment for badminton was slightly lower than last year. Matches were played every Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday during the month of March in the girls' gym.

Winning duos for each of the four ladder contest were Bonnie Dautrich and Lynda Trzaska, Joanne Ernst and Kathryn Wagner, Mary Fetter and Elaine Deysher, Diane Klein and Joan Spencer.

Table Tennis

Sponsor—Mrs. Janet B. Gorman

Forty-five Castle ladies registered for the popular indoor sport of table tennis.

After the players were divided according to basic ability and knowledge of the game, two classifications were formed, namely the beginners and the advanced group.

One hour of competition took place every Monday, Wednesday and Thursday in the girl's gym during the month of December.

Outstanding skills, sharp eyes, and fast reflexes enabled Vida Millek to capture the beginner's laurels and Donna Fessler the advanced title.

Balmy spring weather helped to set the scene for registering girls for tennis, the last of the nine sports sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Association. During the season, spring enthusiasm could be seen in the girls' display of eagerness and competitive spirit.

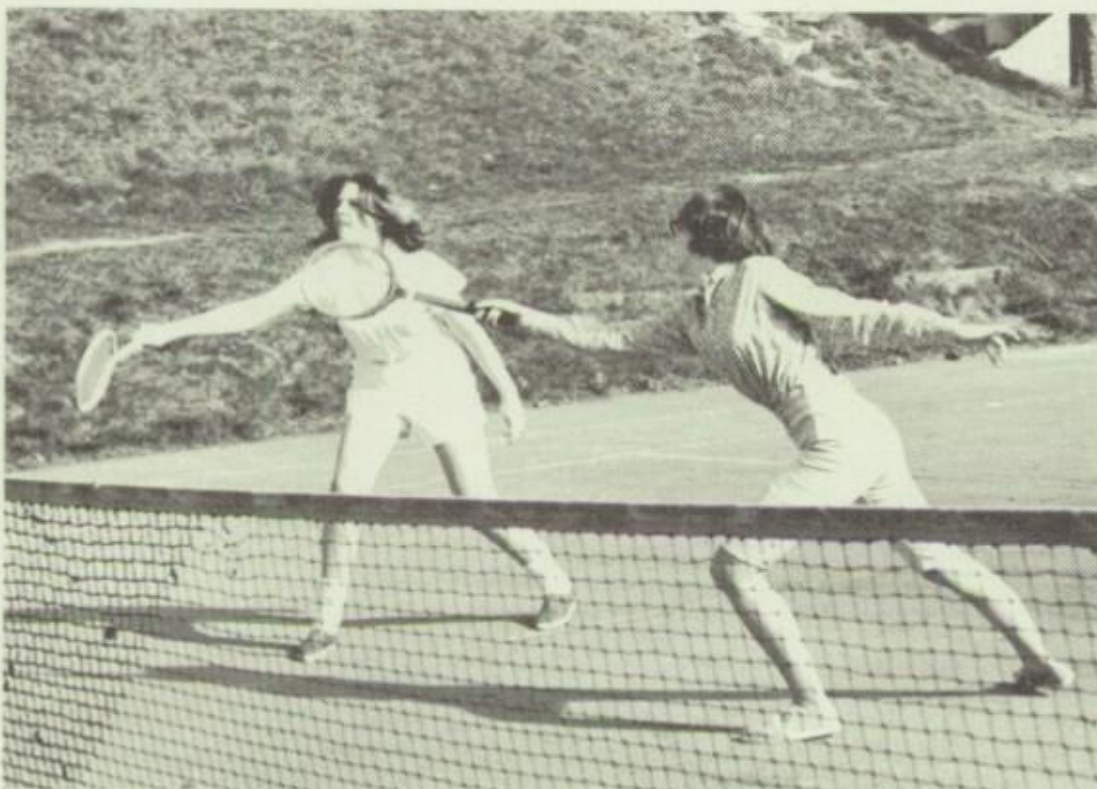

Linda Trzaska of grade twelve won the championship honors in the advanced group. Because of inclement weather, playoffs for the intermediates could not be held. In the beginners' classification, Sharon Harms of grade ten and Patricia Southworth of grade eleven shared title honors.

All matches were played on the school's asphalt courts located on the campus of the school.

Advanced Physical Education

Sponsor—Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman

Participation in this athletic program enabled senior girls to gain valuable training and experience for future careers in physical education or related fields.

During the year, the enrollees were given one period per week theory, and seven periods per week of practical experience as student instructors under the supervision of the gym teachers.

Girls of this group also supervised the events for the County Play Day, and took an active part in the Girls' Athletic Association.

As the result of the weekly instruction given by Mrs. Elizabeth N. Ruhrman, the student leaders were always well qualified to serve as game officials and assistants to the gym teachers.

As in previous years, a feature event of the new school term was the annual activity drive.

This project sponsored yearly by the Key Club since 1954 helped to promote the sale of activity tickets and gave the purchasers the opportunity to select a Castle lady as the official student hostess for various school affairs.

As a result of this year's exciting campaign in which sixteen candidates stimulated the drive, seventeen hundred and two tickets were sold. This marked the greatest number of sales since the inauguration of the program.

Besides being featured on numerous posters, candidates were presented at the opening school dance, the "Castle Mixer" on September 9, 1966, and later at the football Pep Rally at Albright College on September 15, 1966.

After six weeks of suspenseful moments, the name of the newly-elected queen was finally announced during a special assembly on October 18, 1966.

To her great surprise, Deborah Lubas of the S.O.S. Club was selected as the "Activity Queen for 1966-67." Margaret Leh of the Y-Teens Club was named "Miss Congeniality."

Presentations of the new queen and her court to the public was made during the half-time of the Reading-Lancaster football game on October 21, 1966 at the Albright College Stadium.

Juniors at R. H. S.

Class of 1968

Highlighting the activities of the junior class this past school term was the sponsorship of the "Snowfall Caper" dance on January 26, 1967.

In addition, in anticipation of a busy senior year, members of the "Class of 1968" participated in a number of special projects such as selecting their class rings, choosing a class flower and motto, and applying for membership on one of the numerous senior committees. Near the end of their junior year, they also registered for their individual picture appointments for the 1968 Arxalma.

Throughout the past school term, sponsors of the junior class met periodically to prepare plans for the ensuing year.

Mr. Thurwald Gommer, sponsor; Mrs. Mabel J. Davis, assistant sponsor; Mrs. Margaret A. McCloskey, assistant sponsor; Mr. John W. Hartung, assistant sponsor

Student leadership for the junior class was capably provided by the class officers.

Foreground—Margaret Baer, secretary; Rosemary Sottosanti, president; Background—Leon Gilmore, treasurer; James Conroy, vice-president

On the evening of their class dance on January 26, 1967, several members of the junior class admired the decorations while they listened to the hip swinging sounds of the "Originals".

Class of 1969

This year a total of five hundred and fifty-two students from the Northeast and Southern Junior High Schools formed the tenth grade class at Reading High School.

Highlighting the activities of the sophomore class was the sponsorship of the class dance entitled "The Spring Fling" which was held on April 21, 1967.

In the fall of 1967, the former tenth grade students of Reading High School, and of the Northwest and Southwest Junior High Schools will be combined to form the junior class at the Castle.

For the next two years, these sponsors will continue to supervise the activities for the "Class of 69."

Seated—Mr. Paul L. Sommers, sponsor; Mrs. Doris A. Herbine, assistant sponsor; Standing—Mr. Ronald J. Lubas, assistant sponsor; Mr. H. Robert Barrett, assistant sponsor.

Near the end of the school term, officers of the class prepared a tentative list of activities to be undertaken for the 1968-69 school year.

Seated—Linda Cutrona, secretary; Standing—Judith Jaworski, vice president; Richard Koch, president; Maria Dialectos, treasurer.

On January 14, 1967, six members of the sophomore class displayed their outstanding talents for the evening program of the Civic Pride Club.

Michael Sheldon, drummer; Glenn Goodman, singer; Craig Scott, pianist; Thomas Mesonis, announcer; Wallace Scott, singer; Bradley Richardson, singer.

Sophomores at Northwest

Class of 1969

School Motto—Outward Bound

School Flower—Pansy

School Colors—Blue and White

Major activities scheduled for the tenth grade class at Northwest were a trip to New York City on May 5, 1967, and a Junior Prom on June 12, 1967.

With the opening of the new school term in the fall, approximately two hundred and sixty-eight former tenth grade Vikings will start new educational careers at the Castle.

Named to the office of vice principal of Northwest this past year was Mr. Anthony R. Yaklich. He succeeded Mr. Wilford O. Fromuth who was appointed as the new principal of Southwest Junior High School.

With the aid of their sponsors, Mr. James J. Phelan and Mr. Sando E. Cosenza, officers of the tenth grade class capably handled the affairs of their class.

Seated—Dennis Luckenbill, president; Standing—Barbara Kohl, vice president; Karen Birnstock, treasurer; and Cindy Kline, secretary

Northwest's home economics program for girls included a comprehensive sewing course.

Seated—Carmen Adames, Karen Birnstock, Pamela Bush, Edith Colon, Shirley Pool; Standing—Mrs. Mary A. Conrath, instructor; Deborah Haines, Diane Kalbach

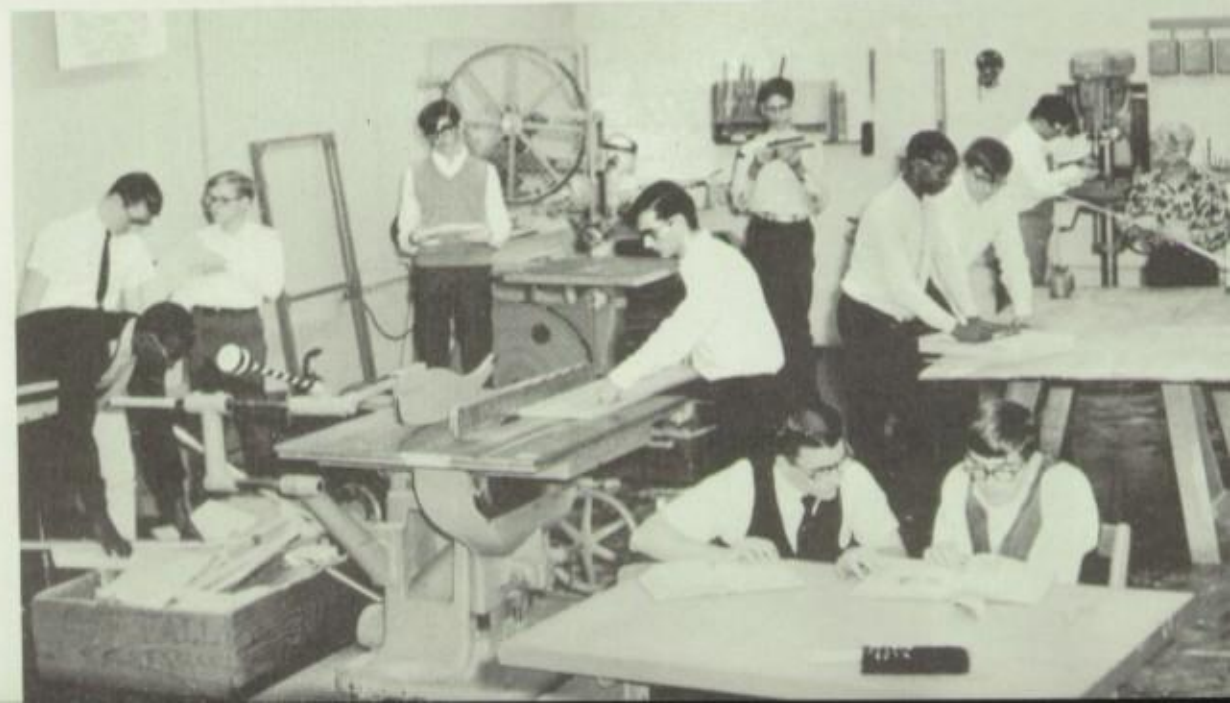

Through observation and experimentation, students of Mr. Robert R. Bentz's class learned many important principles in biology.

Willie Cook, Ronald Turpin, Ann Gartman, Renae Binkley, Virginia Miller, Unidentified, Holly Hummel, Timothy Price, Robert R. Bentz, instructor

Exploratory courses in woodworking, electricity, printing, and metals were offered to boys who were interested in the shop program at Northwest Junior High School.

Seated—Barry Weitzel, Lee Vanover; Standing—Fred Towles, Barry Reaser, Stephen Pierce, Wayne Lewis, Daniel Mirolli, David Trembly, Boston Robinson, Peter De Carlo, Ernest Chioli, Leroy Hetrick

Sophomores at Southwest

R.H.S. Class of 1969

School Motto: We do our best to honor Southwest

School Flower: Carnation

School Colors: Red and White

In the fall of the 1966-67 school term, Mr. Wilfred D. Fromuth began his new role as the principal of Southwest Junior High School. Prior to this appointment, he served as vice-principal of the Northwest Junior High School for fourteen years.

Dr. Stanley Fink, the former principal of Southwest, retired after twenty-two years as head of the junior high, and thirty-eight years of service to the school district.

In September of 1967, one hundred sixty-seven tenth grade students from Southwest Junior High will enter the Castle for their junior year.

In his new position as chief administrator for the Southwest Junior High School, Mr. Wilfred D. Fromuth supervised a faculty of forty-five teachers and a student body of eight hundred and three pupils.

Mr. Wilfred D. Fromuth, principal

Tenth grade class activities at Southwest were successfully promoted by the class officers.

Carol Hause, president; Nancy Mikus, vice-president; Lynn Kreider, secretary-treasurer.

High-spirited cheerleaders stimulated student enthusiasm at the school's pep rallies and athletic events.

Barbara Koumaros, Janis Borrell, Mary Reber

Mr. Edgar A. Wenrich's comprehensive course in printing was one of the five industrial education programs offered to students at Southwest.

Foreground — Michael Martin, Larry Carwill, John Burton, Michael Maciejewski, Mr. Edgar A. Wenrich, instructor; Michael Garis; Rear—John Pietrobone, Roy Flowers, Leo Breton, James Staboleski, David Jefferson, Dennis Olafsen.

Castle students enjoyed an informative and colorful museum lecture on Paris which was presented in an assembly program on February 17, 1967, by Mr. Eric Pavel.

Mr. Eric Pavel, lecturer

Mr. Charles W. Anderton keyed the Halloween assembly of 1966 with a colorful narration of the Tell-Tale Heart by Edgar Allan Poe.

Mr. Charles W. Anderton, member of the faculty of Reading Senior High School

Assembly Highlights

Shortly before the World Series, personal predictions about the final outcome of the Series were made by representatives of our city newspaper, city government, and our own faculty.

Mr. Ken Tuckey, sports writer for the Reading Times; Eugene L. Shirk, mayor of the City of Reading; Mr. Charles L. Dunkelberger, faculty member at Reading High School and scout for the Boston Red Sox; Mr. Jack Evans, staff photographer for the Reading Times; Mr. Dick Gernert, former baseball player for the Cincinnati Reds.

For the Christmas assembly this year, the language department dramatized different ways which people of various countries celebrate the Yuletide season.

Assembly Highlights

Representatives of the Polymer Corporation presented an entertaining and educational program by colorful and novel demonstrations.

On November 29, 1966, a three-person panel was featured in the senior marriage forum assembly.

Reverend William Marlowe, Albright College Chaplain; Mr. Joseph G. Plank, moderator and Head of the English Department of Reading High School; Dr. Dorothea Kleppinger, M. D.

In a unique Thanksgiving assembly, Mr. John Azar of Syria and Mr. Rengaswemy Shanmugasundaram of India explained the different ways the holiday is celebrated in their respective native countries.

Mr. John Azar of Syria, Mr. Rengaswemy Shanmugasundaram of India, Rhonda Stock, assembly chairman; Mrs. Betty O. Hand, chairman of the Assembly Committee.

On January 24, 1967, Reading Senior High School was honored as being one of the twenty-two schools visited by the Lycoming Choir on their twelve-day tour.
